Speculation Is Chief Activity In Steel Strike

Many Rumors Keep Air Of Expectancy In Pittsburgh Steel Strike Center

STEEL FABRICATORS TO MEET SNYDER

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—The nation-wide steel strike dragged on into its sixteenth day today, with eyes on Washington.

While pickets monotonously paraded in front of struck plants and business generally grew steadily worse, the 750,000 idle workers scanned newspapers or tuned in their radio to learn what was going on.

The strikers were kept in a mood of expectancy by speculation of radio commentators on Washington developments and by newspaper headlines which said "strike break near" and "White House ready to act in steel crisis."

Officially, however, no one in Pittsburgh, the nation's steel capital, knew anything.

Standby For Developments

The executives, representing both industry and labor, were in Washington, standing by for developments.

President Truman has summoned a special cabinet meeting for today reportedly to consider a formula for settling the steel strike and price-wage disputes generally.

Here in the steel area interested parties had nothing but second-hand rumors to go on. There were hints that President Truman would make a new move whereby the strikers would reportedly get an 16¢ cents an hour wage boost while industry would be granted an increase in steel prices of between $4.60 and $5.25 a ton.

It was announced that steel fabricators and processors will meet in Washington tomorrow with Reconstruction.

PA NEW OBSERVES

With the light rain that was falling this morning, some pedestrians found sidewalk travel precarious and had to resort to the street carway in the East Side section of the city.

Several large grass fires were noted in the district last night. One occurred along the Pulaski road in Neshannock township, and another was noted in Union township.

"By, By, Black-bird" has been changed to "Mi, Mi, Blue Bird," the first harbingers of spring having been seen in Gaston park today. The blue bird is seen flitting around by Owen Fox, caretaker of city parks.

Tin must be getting more plentiful in the United States. Several of the well-known tin packages that were prevalent before the war have made a comeback, it is noted.

Just a degree or two colder this morning and some difficult traffic conditions would have been encountered. Rain was falling, but the thermometer hovered a couple of degrees above the freezing mark.

Pa. News observed at least half a dozen people within the space of a few minutes, approach the former offices of the old Ration Board, in the Aiken school building, Monday afternoon, attempting to get into the locked building not bothering to read the sign plainly posted that the Board had moved to the Court House Annex. After reading the sign, some even asked where the new office was.

In early evening, Monday, a red glow that spread over the sky near the outskirts of the city in the vicinity of the Pulaski-Harbor road, gave visions to North Hill folks of a serious fire being in progress. Numerous residents made a trip of investigation and found that a

Radar Communication With Moon Opens Way For New Developments

BEILMAR, N. J., Feb. 5.—The Army Signal Corps radar assaults on the moon already have demonstrated that it is possible to communicate with and guide a space ship flying beyond the 300-mile layer of the earth's atmosphere.

Col. John H. DeWitt, Jr., who is in charge of the radar-moon project at the Evans Laboratories three miles from Belmar, made this revelation today in an interview with International News Service.

Chance Of Breaking Filibuster Is Fading

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Chances of breaking the filibuster of southern senators against the fair employment practices bill today faded.

Sen. Chavez (D-N. M.) said he "still has in mind" a second parliamentary move to shut off the filibuster. The talk today is being carried on officially on a ruling from the chair, instead of on "correcting the journal."

Chavez said however, that he will not do anything about it "for several days, while I talk to other Senators."

Shaw Will Be Offered Freedom Of Native City

Despite Some Opposition Dublin Corporation Takes Action To Honor Playwright

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Despite opposition by two of its members, the Dublin corporation has decided to offer playwright George Bernard Shaw the freedom of his native city.

J. O'Byrne, one of those opposing an offer of Shaw, said today: "What has he ever done for Ireland except make long-distance wisecracks."

J. J. Phelan also voiced disapproval of the playwright and told Dublin's governing body: "He's not a fit mentor for either youth or adults in Eire."

Shaw said that while he would accept the offer "gratefully," he would do so only if it were made by a substantial majority of the corporation. He added that he would "deal with Phelan and O'Byrne" when he receives the offer.

James Larkin, who championed Shaw in the controversy, said: "He often says foolish things, but sometimes Shaw is wiser in his foolishness than some of us in our wisdom."

Two-Hour Work Stoppage Planned In New York City

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The nation's biggest city today faced the prospect of a paralyzing two-hour general work stoppage, called for 4 p. m. next Monday by the Greater New York City Council, in support of all current strikes.

The work stoppage was ordered at a meeting of delegates from 300 CIO union locals claiming to represent 600,000 workers, as a demonstration of what was termed "an evil conspiracy by the monopoly corporations to reduce the living standards of the American people."

Exempted from the order were transit lines, utilities and health services.

Union employees of the city's daily newspapers and news services likewise were exempted.

British War Brides Reach Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Six happy, smiling British war brides stepped off a special train in Pittsburgh's Pennsylvania station today ready to begin their new life in America.

Anxious, but joyous, husbands were on hand to be the first to welcome their wives and take them to their new homes in western Pennsylvania and Ohio. The women arrived in New York yesterday on the liner Argentina from England.

The special train pulled in at 5:40 a. m. with 140 brides and 15 babies, all bound for Pittsburgh, the mid-west and the west coast.

Soviet Threat Of Veto Will Develop More Wrangling

Further Bitter Argument Is Predicted Before U.N.O. Security Council

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Delegation circles predicted further bitter wrangling when the U.N.O. Security Council meets tonight to consider the validity of a threatened Russian veto of proposals that Britain be given a clean bill of health in Greece.

They said that if Russian demands for withdrawal of British troops from Greece constituted a "dispute" with Britain within the meaning of the U.N.O. charter, neither Britain nor Russia would be eligible to vote on any proposed compromise.

Must Make Decision
But all eleven Security Council members could vote should the present deadlock be considered a mere "situation." These are the questions the Council must decide before the charges and counter-charges can be resolved.

Observers declared that with Russia as interested as any other country in world peace, chief Moscow delegate, Andrei Vishinsky, might end the deadlock by permitting adoption of a compromise resolution.

It was Russian objection to adoption of a Council resolution that Britain's activities in Greece did not menace world peace that brought the veto threat and involved the Council in the legalistic question of whether an actual dispute existed.

Meanwhile, the British press headed yesterday's session in which Foreign Secretary Bevin insisted on open vindication of the British position in Greece as a moral defeat for Russia.

Death Sentence For Japanese General Awaits Action By Gen MacArthur

U. S. GENERAL IS REVIEWING CASE

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Feb. 5.—The fate of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita now under death sentence for war crimes, today lay in the hands of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The refusal of the United States Supreme Court to intervene in the Yamashita case set a precedent confirming the authority of the United States Army to try war criminals.

Reveals Secret Efforts Made To Clear Kimmel

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Capt. L. P. Safford told the Pearl Harbor committee today that his secret efforts to clear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel of blame for the 1941 surprise attack were made without the former Pacific fleet commander's knowledge.

Safford, again under stiff examination by Rep. Murphy (D-Pa.), admitted that he contacted Kimmel in New York on Feb. 21, 1944, but said that he "took the initiative" not Adm. Kimmel.

Safford, a navy decoding and communications officer, explained that his meeting with Kimmel occurred about a month after he wrote Capt. A. D. Kramer in a coded letter soliciting his support in the "cause" to exonerate Kimmel.

Called On Kimmel
Safford testified that he was in New York for personal reasons and decided to call on the deposed Pacific fleet commander who was accused of dereliction of duty by the 1942 Roberts commission.

"I told him everything I knew," Safford said.

He said he did not tell Kimmel about his letter to Kramer criticizing his superiors. Murphy asked if he "talked to Safford else in New York state" and Safford said he was "positive" he had not.

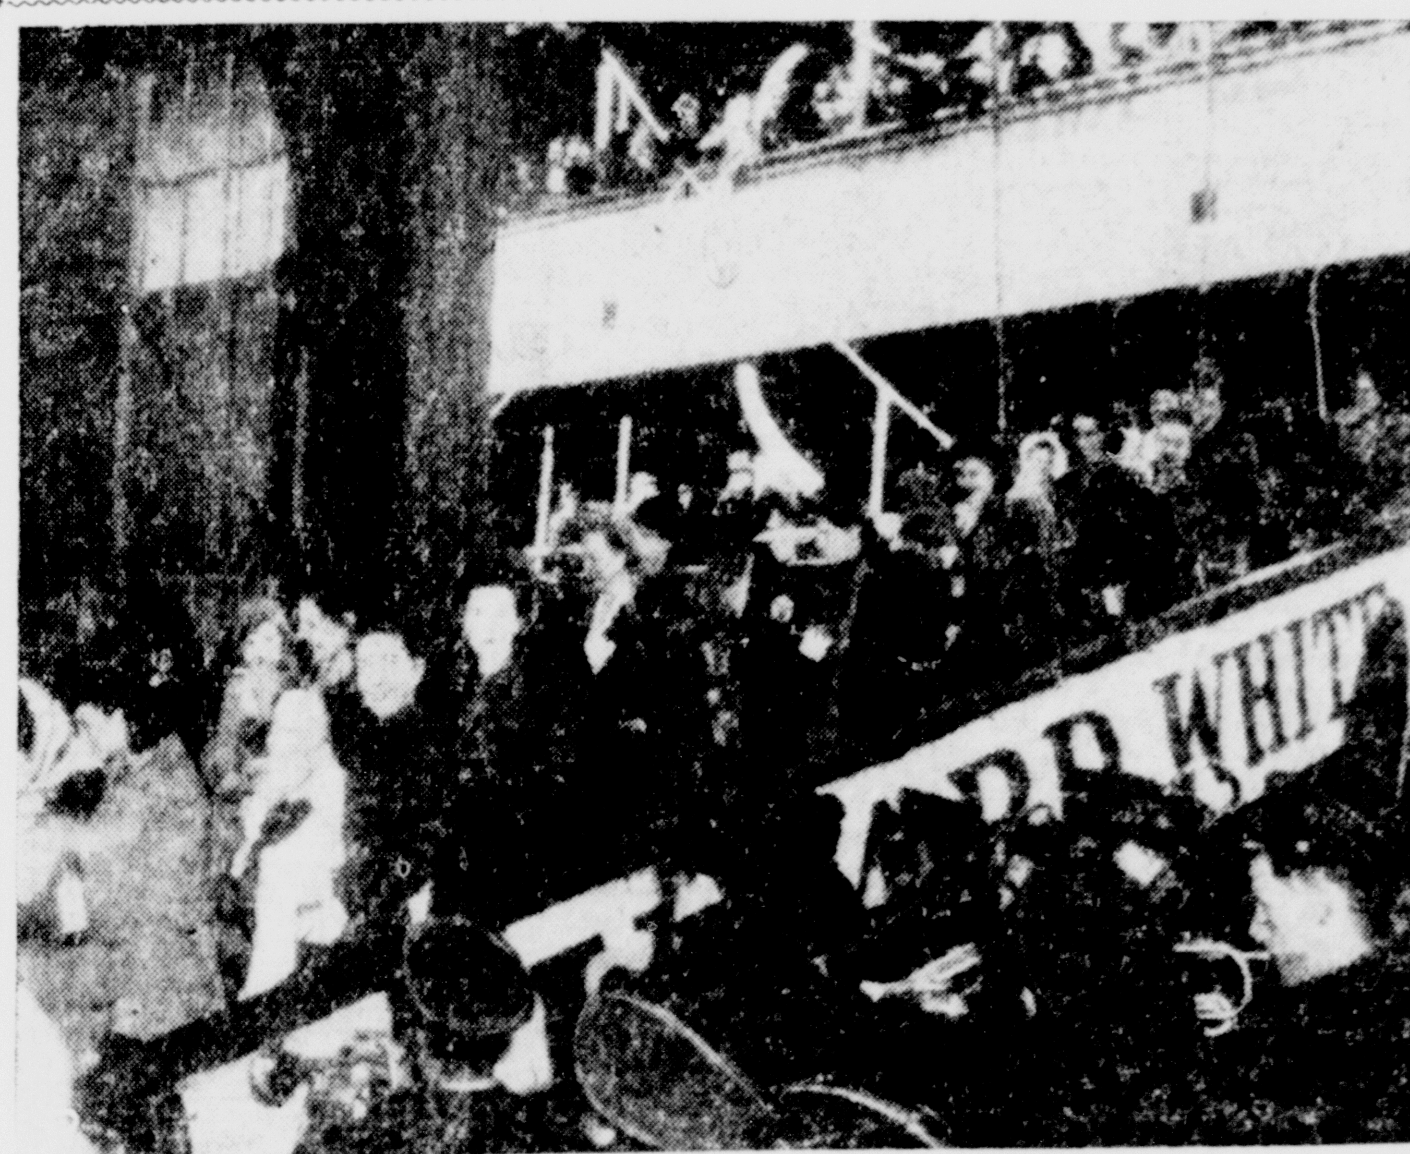

He disclosed that he talked with (Continued on Page Two)

Deny Report That Stettinius Plans Compromise Offer

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—American delegation circles in the U.N.O. today denied a report emanating from British sources that Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., chief United States delegate, has a compromise offer to solve the dispute between Britain and Russia over Greece.

Stettinius undoubtedly will bend every effort to prevent a deadlock and find a formula acceptable to both Britain and Russia.

Final Action In House Near On Anti-Strike Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The Republican-Southern Democratic coalition backing the CIO anti-strike bill today appeared to be holding firm.

Rep. Smith (D-Va.), one of the foremost backers of the bill, predicted that the measure would be approved "without substantial change."

Final Action Near
Smith anticipated final action late this afternoon or tomorrow on the bill which is a substitute for President Truman's last-issued legislation.

Smith's prediction was made as the House began its fourth day of consideration of labor legislation.

Meanwhile, with the penalties in the bill introduced by Rep. Case (R-S. D.) somewhat softened, efforts were underway to pull still more of its "teeth" before a final vote is taken.

It was virtually conceded that barring some sudden change in sentiment, the House was headed toward passage of some version of the Case bill in place of the President's proposal.

Amendments To Be Asked
Amendments were to be offered to eliminate entirely from the Case bill all provision empowering Federal courts to issue injunctions other than under the Norris-LaGuardia act which provides for full court hearings before action is taken.

The House struck out a provision empowering courts to issue injunctions to compel compliance with contracts. Two other provisions still remained permitting Federal judges to issue injunctions in the event of strike violence and at their request of a labor-management mediation board.

The House also liberalized the definition of "supervisory" employees to permit those who perform "manual labor" to organize and bargain collectively. The Case bill contains a provision barring supervisory employees from bargaining collectively.

'Forgetful' Autoists Receiving Warrants

Some motorists those of the forgetful variety today received visits or personal calls by police.

Said police handed warrants to the absent-minded of the motor-going public.

The said warrants were delivered because the autoists failed to honor "tags" placed on cars which were parked too long without regard to the time on parking meter clocks.

In other words if cost the absent-minded $2.50, where had the "tags" been honored the cost would have been $1.

Russian May Join U.N.O. Site Protest

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(INS)—NBS reporter Merrill Mueller declared from London today that Russian delegates to the U.N.O. may join Connecticut residents in protesting to the selection of the Greenwich-Stamford site for the organization headquarters.

Mueller said the Russians want to know why the site committee selected so large an area for a group which will use it only part of each year.

Woman Plunges To Death In Rome

ROME, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Miss L. A. Haslip, an American employee of the Allied Commission in Rome, plunged to her death today from the fourth-floor of the Albergo Britannia Building.

Authorities declared the 35-year-old woman's death was a suicide, but admitted that the motives were unknown. It was believed that she did not want to leave Rome though she was scheduled to have returned to the United States a week ago.

Miss Haslip was a resident of Washington, D. C.

She was scheduled to leave for the States last Sunday but missed the boat. There was no way of telling who her last accidental or otherwise.

Ordinarily Miss Haslip did not leave her room in the evening but she went out last night, returning at 2 o'clock this morning. A porter ascertained that she seemed depressed and apparently was crying as she entered her hotel.

Women friends told authorities that she had been praying a great deal of late.

No Word Received Of British Bride Reported En Route

Husband Not Located Here; Two More British Brides Coming Here Aboard 'Queen Mary'

Although no word has as yet been received about the family of Mrs. Minnie Fetterman, English bride who was supposed to have docked in New York harbor on Monday, the families of two other English girls who will arrive on Friday have already been contacted by the local Red Cross chapter.

Mrs. Fetterman is the wife of Master Sgt. John Fetterman, whose address was given simply as "Lawrence County."

The other brides are Mrs. Betty Groucutt, wife of Sgt. Jack Groucutt, of Friendship street, and Mrs. Betty Butta, wife of Pvt. Joe Butta of Volant. Pvt. Butta is now in England General Hospital in Atlantic City, and expects to meet his wife when she arrives aboard the Queen Mary Friday. The couple will live in Volant.

Mrs. Groucutt is also arriving aboard the Queen Mary.

Passengers On Grounded Ship Being Rescued

SEWARD, Alaska, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Women and children today were the first among nearly 500 persons aboard the grounded liner Yukon to be rescued.

In the age-old tradition of the sea 47 women and children were the first passengers ashore as the famed Alaska liner broke in two. The aft section of the Yukon, which had been grounded since the morning of Feb. 2, was hoisted by the stern.

First aid stations were established at Seward for any casualties among the liner's 371 passengers, including 180 homebound bound GIs, and her crew of 124.

Planes Aid Rescues
Word was flashed by coastguard rescue vessels that heavy seas which broke the liner in two were abating. To speed rescue operations, army flying fortresses were flying to the scene of the wreck, 40 miles south of Seward, with small power boats.

Directing rescue operations was the U. S. Coastguard cutter Onondaga, already on the scene. The Onondaga was expected to be joined momentarily by four other rescue ships, including her sister cutter.

TOKYO, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Sir William Webb, Australian jurist who will sit on the international war crimes tribunal, declined to comment today on the possibility that Emperor Hirohito may be named for trial.

"That's a matter for the prosecution to decide," he told questioners.

Sir William arrived in Tokyo last night with a party of Australian and New Zealand representatives who will take part in forthcoming trials of major war crimes suspects.

Job Merit System Not Endangered

HARRISBURG, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's Civil Service Commission reported today that President Truman's order would not affect the state's job merit system.

A spokesman said Pennsylvania war veterans not only would be entitled to a bonus of 10 points in Civil Service examinations but would be credited for vocational experience gained while in the armed services. Wives and widows of disabled veterans were accorded similar privileges.

In 1943 the General Assembly made all Civil Service appointments provisional for the duration of the war and six months.

Upward Revision Of Price Policy Is Reported Planned

President To Authorize New Price Program And Order Level Held For Year

HOPE PROGRAM WILL MEET STRIKE CRISIS

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—President Truman shortly will authorize an upward revision in the nation's present "hold-the-line" price policy and then direct that the new stabilization level be held for one year while rising production overcomes inflationary danger.

High government officials said today that this is the program now being drafted by top administration experts as a solution to the current wave of industrial disputes—including the paralyzing steel strike—which threatens to halt the reconversion effort.

Expect Announcement
An announcement of the new policy is expected from the White House within the next two or three days.

Officials said the limited relaxation on the wage-price front will be applicable to all industry, although it is being worked out under the direct pressure of the 16-day-old walkout of 750,000 steel workers.

Proponents of the plan claim it will bring quick settlement of the steel walkout and the strike of 300,000 electrical workers. The 77-day strike of General Motors employees may drag on a bit longer, while GM and the CIO-UAW settle out other issues besides wages.

CIO President Philip Murray was called to the White House Monday and reportedly was told to expect developments in the steel dispute shortly. He left the conference with President Truman and Secretary of Labor Schweitzer in a jubilant mood.

Need Price Adjustments
Leaders of the steel electrical and auto industries have informed Mr. Truman and his aides the past week that they cannot meet the current wage demands of labor without compensating price adjustments.

A revision of present stabilization regulations is necessary since existing policies do not permit high prices to cover wage boosts unless the latter are made to offset standard conditions and monetary, meet a 32 percent wartime rise in living costs or correct manpower shortages in key industries.

OPA Administrator Chester Bowles was reported to have reluctantly agreed to the new program upon assurance that no further changes in the stabilization line will be permitted for 12 months.

Controversy Over U.N.O. Site Selection

GREENWICH, Conn., Feb. 5.—(INS)—The storm of controversy in the 42-square-mile Greenwich-Stamford area recommenced today when U.N.O. headquarters meeting of world war veterans tax losses most often mentioned.

Tax assessors were concerned over the loss of $454,000 annual revenues to Greenwich and Stamford if the proposed site is internationalized. Protest meetings have been called for tonight in both towns.

Town residents were divided over the desirability of establishing U.N.O. headquarters in the area. The objectives were chief; those who face possible eviction or are hostile to the whole United Nations idea, while those in favor foresee great cultural and educational advantages.

In the world there's lots of bluster, atom bombs and filibusters, strikes and law suits, nylon shavings, electric hard to get I know, folks want a brand new auto, and perhaps they hadn't ought to but the base account is heavy and they have a lot of dough. But these scraps I pay no heed to, although perhaps there is a need to, but I have a different problem and its this I'd like to say, will the seeds I get be proper, will the garden come a cropper, these are problems that beset me and it's 39 today.

Canners Told Of Nation's Program

Secretary Anderson Announces Support Prices Of Vegetables To Be Withdrawn

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 5.—(INS)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson told the National Canners association today that the Agriculture department will not undertake to support prices of vegetables for processing or processed vegetables packed in 1946.

Anderson said also that there will be no processor's certification program.

No Support Needed

The agriculture chief pointed out that price support operations were undertaken during the war to assure meeting government requirements. Now, he said, with the active demand for processed vegetables and the anticipated demand for the 1946 packs, the department feels that there will be no need for a support program this year.

Anderson declared that all wartime controls cannot be dropped immediately because the economic situation is anything but normal. "We must maintain our economic balance in this trying period," he said.

To Prevent Debacle

"Never has the danger of a flaming inflation been so great—yet never have we been so well equipped as a nation to prevent that debacle if we use the economic implements we have at hand, plus plenty of old-fashioned common sense."

The secretary told the association at its annual convention that food prices still are pushing hard against ceilings and there would be a substantial rise in cost of living "if we lifted every lid today." He added: "We must therefore move with caution only relaxing controls as production proves itself capable of holding prices in line."

He said the department had looked for the ending of all price ceilings and subsidies this coming June but it now appears that the officials underestimated the tremendous demand for food, and the great buying power in the hands of workers and the returning veterans among others.

"For example, if a chain of stations such as this one were built around the world space ships could land by beam any place in the world."

Col. DeWitt pointed out that the atmosphere around the world is less than 300 miles thick and the moon is 240,000 miles away. Nevertheless, the moon is the most convenient target available to find out what happens when the waves pass outside the atmosphere.

Problems Of Fabricators

News of this projected conference was given out by the Tri-State Industrial Association. Fifty-six members of this organization employing more than 51,000 are closed as a result of the steel strike.

The Tri-State group have communicated with Snyder setting forth their problems. They explained that in addition to the 56 plants struck in this locality an additional 65 were closed by the walkout. All told 350,000 fabricating and processing employees are idle throughout the country.

The fabricators contend that unless some satisfactory relief can be afforded them the question arises "whether entire plants, or certain departments can remain in operation in view of increased steel prices."

The CIO-Steel Workers Union meanwhile has filed an appeal to the state supreme court against the temporary injunction issued in Pittsburgh last Saturday which prohibited mass picketing outside the Homestead works of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation.

A hearing on the corporation's petition to make the injunction permanent will be argued on February 11.

While Chavez said he still is considering another parliamentary move, some other senators said privately that they did not think it would be attempted.

That strategy would involve an effort to shut off debate on the appeal from the ruling of Senate President McKellar that the FEPC closure petition cannot be filed while the journal is being corrected.

The secondary attempt would not be debatable. But to have it succeed, a majority of the Senate would have to vote a virtual change of the rule making the original appeal debatable.

Investiture Of Catholic Girl Scout Troop Held

Ceremonies Take Place At Koppel On Monday Evening; Many Share Program

In most impressive investiture ceremonies, Sunday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock in St. Teresa parish hall and church, Sixth avenue, Koppel, 35 girls were installed in the newly organized St. Teresa Girl Scout Troop 113.

The community most gratefully appreciates the founding of this troop and has cooperated in every way in its organization by the Chaplain Rev. Fr. M. Lesiak, the Girl Scout Leader Mrs. Joseph Salvano who has been so ably assisted in this Girl Scout pioneering, by her assistant Girl Scout leaders, Miss Alice Pisano and Mrs. Alfonso Rossi, also by the Scout committee members, Mrs. Milan Pavlovic, Miss Mary T. Perrelli, Mrs. James Barile, Mrs. Herman Docchio, Mrs. George Beres, Mrs. Anthony Ferrigno, and Mrs. Jesse Watson.

Preliminary Program

In the parish hall preliminary program, Mrs. M. S. Swaney, organization chairman of Beaver Falls and New Brighton district, gave a very inspiring address in the presentation of the troop certificate.

The recitation of "Naam's Prayer," "We Want To Be a Girl Scout," evoked their unstinted applause of the capacity audience, of Boy Scout Cubs, parent and adult friends, as likewise did the very practical speeches of Mrs. Joseph Salvano, the leader of the troop, and Mrs. Milan Pavlovic, chairman of the Scout committee members.

The Girl Scouts, in chorus, then recited the Girl Scout promise and laws and sang their "Our Chant Song."

The master of ceremonies, Miss Alice Pisano, then brought this program to a close in well chosen words of gratitude to the parents and all present.

March to Church

The assembly call by Boy Scout bugler, John Leonardo, of St. Monica's Boy Scouts, Wampum, summoned the procession of all present for the march from the hall to the church, to the accompaniment of the church organ.

The ceremonies in the church consisted of the sermon by Rev. Fr. A. Atkinson, pastor, the blessing of the neckerchiefs and badges, the presentation ceremony, candle ceremony, the act of consecration to our Blessed Lady, benediction of the blessed sacrament and the "Te Deum."

The following girls are the charter members of the troop:

Shirley Atkinson, Judith Beres, Angela Buccellio, Bonnie Lee Barile, Phyllis Crane, Dorothy Jane Docchio, Sara Dukan, Shirley Jean Dukas, Elizabeth Ferrigno, Patricia L. David Franklin Henry, aged 72 years, of Slippery Rock, R. D. 2, died at his home this morning at 2:10 o'clock after a two weeks' illness.

Mr. Henry, son of the late Robert and Mary Levine Dunlap Henry, was born in Butler, June 10, 1872. He was retired after having been employed for 37 years by the Manufacturers Light and Heat company.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Sarah Jane McJilton Henry, six children, Robert F. Henry, Mrs. Mary E. Forbes and Mrs. Ruth Myers, all of New Castle, Miss Jennie Henry, Slippery Rock, Mrs. Grace Hohmann, Plaingrove, and Douglas Henry, Youngstown, O.

He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Jane Lee Kelly, Steubenville, O., and Mrs. Margaret Sheez, Columbus, O., and 12 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, Slippery Rock, R. D. 2, with Dr. James M. Blackwood, of the College Hill U. P. church, Beaver Falls, officiating.

Interment will take place in North cemetery, Butler, Pa.

The body has been removed from the R. L. Boyd funeral home to the residence, where friends are being received.

Mrs. Stoughton Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. Marie M. Stoughton, wife of William R. Stoughton, of 6 East Moody avenue, were conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the R. L. Boyd funeral home, with Dr. Burr McKnight, of the First Methodist church, officiating.

Harry Dunmore, Clinton Keagy, John G. Blum, David Marshall, Ralph Weller and John B. Shaw served as pallbearers.

Interment took place in Castle View Burial Park.

McClelland Funeral

Funeral services for J. Holmes McClelland were held Monday at 1:30 p. m. from his North Beaver township home with Rev. E. A. Shoemaker in charge, assisted by Rev. John M. Fise.

Two favorite selections of the deceased were sung by the assembly with Mrs. Mary Duff at the piano.

Pallbearers were Albert McConnell, John Wallace, Harris McClelland, Glenn Marshall, Arthur Stahl-smith and George Burrows.

Interment was in Mt. Jackson cemetery.

Hergenrother Funeral

High mass of requiem for Peter Sylvester Hergenrother of Wampum, R. D. 1, was offered this morning at 9 o'clock from St. Monica's church with the Rev. Fr. Fred Atkinson as celebrant.

Anthony Bachalski, Robert Dombeck, Leo Brenahan, David Fred and James Madden served as pallbearers.

The committal service at the grave in Hoytland cemetery was conducted by the Rev. Fr. Atkinson.

Without Painful Backache Many sufferers are nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 quarts a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty urination with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully for millions for over 40 years, Doan's give kidneys their full, healthy, normal waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Secretary Ickes Utters Warning

Declares Congress Will Make Mistake To Recognize State Titles To Tidewater Lands

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Secretary of the Interior Ickes declared today that Congress would "make a most serious mistake" if it recognizes state titles to tidewater lands.

Ickes at his own request appeared before the Senate Judiciary committee to testify against the joint resolution, passed by the House, which would quit-claim to the states government title to tidelands within their boundaries.

"The resolution seems to express the view that the United States not only should give away any claim it may have to the submerged lands but should also apologize for having mentioned it."

He declared the bill "ousts the Supreme Court of the United States of its jurisdiction to decide an important case now pending before it."

Ickes referred to the tidelands trespass action against California, which, according to Attorney General Robert W. Kenny, of California, threatens to title to all property—state, municipal and private—standing near tidal waters.

He contended the question of ownership of submerged lands is one for the Supreme Court to settle, not Congress. He added:

"I am not here to argue the law with California or the oil companies; indeed, I could not do so with propriety while the case is pending in the Supreme Court and under the control of the attorney general."

"But I do insist that the ownership of the submerged coastal lands below the low-water mark has never been settled and that it is a very difficult question."

Ickes said he had been an advocate of "legitimate" state's rights for over a half a century, but observed it has never occurred to him that one of the inalienable rights of a state is to escape litigation when it claims land which the national government also asserts title.

LECKFOR WILLIAMS

MORNING CEREMONY

Miss Gertrude Leckfor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael W. Leckfor, of 315 East Reynolds street, became the bride of Sgt. Thomas Francis Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Williams, of Girardville, at a ceremony performed Monday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Philip and James church.

Rev. V. V. Stanciewicz officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin wedding gown, a fingertip veil that fell from a coronet headdress and carried white roses and calla lilies. Her only jewelry was a gold lavalier.

Miss Eleanor Leckfor, the bride's maid of honor, wore a teal blue chiffon and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow mums and pink roses.

Jack Williams, of Girardville, was his brother's best man.

Organist Miss Marie Dutkiewicz played and sang "Ave Maria".

In the afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The newly weds left on a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. They will make their home at Fort Jackson, S. C., where they will live on the post.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. T. A. Williams and Jack Williams, of Girardville; Mrs. James Houston, of Harrisburg; Mrs. A. Ankowski and Mr. and Mrs. C. Cyron of Allentown; Sgt. Robert Grater, of Fort Jackson, S. C.; and Sgt. Riley C. Burke, of St. Albans, W. Va., who has just returned from a year in the Pacific area.

READING CIRCLE '91

PROGRAM ON 'TEXAS'

Reading Circle '91 met Monday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A. for a program on "Texas" which proved one of unusual interest. Mrs. Roy Jamison was hostess of the afternoon.

Modern Geography of Texas was the subject discussed by Mrs. Thomas Lindsay. Mrs. T. C. Boston gave an inventory of Texas products and Mrs. C. D. Updegraff presented a paper on the People of Texas.

During business of the afternoon, with Dr. Dale Coulter Caldwell presiding, Mrs. Floyd Smock was welcomed into the circle as a new member.

Next meeting will be the mid-winter luncheon to be held February 18 at a local tea room with Mrs. Clarence D. Updegraff, Mrs. James Morgan and Mrs. C. D. Parker as the committee in charge of arrangements.

Section One Change

Section One of the First Christian church will meet Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Taylor, 498 Neshannock boulevard. This is a change from the regular Wednesday meeting date.

WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

IN HOSPITAL CHAPEL

In the chapel of Woodrow Wilson General Hospital, Staunton, Va., on February 2, the marriage of Lieut. Roberta Mae Wimer, of the Army Nurse Corps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Wimer, of the Hileman apartment, and Lieut. Stephen Masley, U. S. A., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Masley, of Kintnerville, was solemnized at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Lieut. Col. C. K. Titus officiated at a double ring ceremony before an altar embellished with white roses, gladioli, sweet peas and lighted white tapers on crosses of evergreen.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin and tulle gown, train-length, and her fingertip length veil fell from a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and gardenias.

Mrs. A. S. Hill of Durbin, Va., attended the bride as matron of honor and wore a floor-length gown of pale green satin and tulle with head bandeau of roses, and carried a colonial bouquet of red roses and white sweet peas.

Miss Janet Rote, of Washington, D. C., bridesmaid, was attired in pink satin and tulle floor length gown with head bandeau of pink roses and blue French Iris and colonial bouquet of the same flowers.

Lieutenant Masley had as best man Lieut. A. S. Hill and others were Capt. A. E. Nehart and Lieut. M. S. Kissinger.

Preceding the ceremony two of the bride's favorite selections were sung by Lieut. Rhoda Vickroy, "I Love You Truly" and "Because". During the ceremony the selections, "Always" and "At Dawning" were played by James Britton of Wayneboro, Va.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the officers' club where a buffet lunch was served 250 people. A beautiful wedding cake adorned the center of the table at which the bride presided and was cut with the sword of Col. H. L. Connor, commanding officer of the hospital.

The couple has dispensed with a wedding trip for the present, as both are on army duty at the hospital.

The bride, a graduate of Shenandoah high school and Jameson hospital School of Nursing, is an army nurse stationed at the hospital.

Lieut. Masley, a graduate of Revere high school, Philadelphia, and Carlisle Officer's Training School, Carlisle, is now with the regular army at Staunton, Va., as administrative officer of the Woodrow Wilson hospital.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Wimer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wimer and Mrs. George Goebel of New Castle; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Masley and Joseph Masley, of Kintnerville; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Browncheck of Philadelphia; Mrs. A. S. Hill of Durbin, Va.; and Miss Janet Rote of Washington, D. C.

KIRBY-PATTERSON

WEDDING ON MONDAY

Monday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock a wedding of interest locally took place in Pittsburgh, the bridegroom being formerly from New Castle. In the ceremony Irene Kirby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arley Kirby of 344 Semple avenue, Pittsburgh, was married to Dale E. Patterson, son of the late James C. and Grace Leslie Patterson of this city.

Yours were gathered in the presence of a gathering of friends and relatives of the couple in the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. Gray, 804 Johnson avenue, Pittsburgh, before an improvised altar. A profusion of ferns palms and standards of white flowers artistically arranged formed the setting. Appropriate music was provided preceding and during the ceremony, with Rev. E. Davies, Presbyterian pastor, North Side, Pittsburgh, officiating. He used the double ring ceremony.

The bride was stunningly attired in a mist green crepe street length dress edged with fuchsia, complemented with a shoulder corsage of pink roses.

Her sister, Mrs. Ethel Gray, as only attendant, selected a black and white afternoon ensemble with pink roses for her shoulder corsage.

Edward Humber of Pittsburgh served as best man.

An informal reception followed afterwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson left on a brief trip, and upon their return will take up temporary residence with Mr. and Mrs. Gray.

Both are employed at the Union Supply company, Pittsburgh. The bridegroom was recently honorably discharged from the U. S. Marine Corps and served as corporal in the First Division.

HERSHEY AUXILIARY

FEBRUARY PROGRAM

Hershey auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church met Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the church parlors for the February business meeting and devotional program. Hostesses were Mrs. George S. Long, Mrs. David H. Long, Mrs. Margaret Brooks, Mrs. Frank L. Orth, Mrs. S. W. Perry, Sr., Mrs. John Park, Mrs. A. S. Gilchrist and Miss Boss Galey.

Leader of worship service on Stewardship" was Mrs. A. A. Webb. Mrs. W. A. Woodworth, who presided, after business turned the program over to Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine, program chairman.

"What Shall I Render?" was the title of a playlet presented by a cast of Hershey members. With Mrs. McIlvaine in the part of the busy housewife with many claims on her time, services, and purse, others who took part were Mrs. A. B. Pinkhauser and Mrs. R. D. Rosenberger as Voices, and Mrs. G. Wilfred Thomas, Mrs. John E. Elliot, and Mrs. Lucien Black.

Two piano selections were beautifully played by Miss Edna Alexander. Her numbers were the "Valse Chromatique" by Godard and "Hymn" by Rachmaninoff.

A number of new members were welcomed.

During business, announcement was made of the colonial tea sponsored by the missionary cabinet of the church to be given at the church on February 22. Mrs. William J. Caldwell is in charge of the program of entertainment.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Allen's Lot Of Str

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—While the controversy over the appointment of Edwin W. Pauley to be undersecretary of Navy has made headlines, beneath the surface has been a more important event. This is the appointment of George E. Allen to be chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The RFC is the biggest business in the world. The transactions which must be approved by the chairman involve billions of dollars. The question inevitably arises as to the fitness of the man appointed to such a responsible position.

Allen is a general Mississippiian who was in the hotel business until 1932. Then, thanks to his Democratic connections, he got the kind of political job which means a pleasant official life with only limited responsibilities. He was made one of the commissioners of the District of Columbia.

In this position he made many friends. One of them was Franklin D. Roosevelt. Allen had an unimpeachable record of loyalty and competence. He was a highly successful promoter and financier who, at the age of 47, has a dominating interest in many corporations. Due largely to Emanuel's friendship, Allen was given directorships in several of these companies. He has been vice president of the Home Insurance Co. of New York since 1938.

During his campaign as vice presidential candidate in the fall of 1944, Allen gave President Truman advice and comfort. It was not surprising, therefore, that the President, shortly after he entered the White House, should make his friend one of his close advisers.

Business Experience? It goes without saying that a man with experience in banking and business is needed to direct the vast affairs of the RFC. One question certain to interest the Senate is the extent of Allen's business experience.

But Senate liberals, both Democratic and Republican, are looking at the appointment from another angle. They call an incident in which Allen played a curious part. That was in connection with President Truman's request to Congress to expand the unemployment compensation program. The President asked for many changes, including a maximum payment of $25 a week, so that unemployment insurance would help the jobless get through the reconstruction period with greater ease.

Supposedly, this was one of the cardinal points in the President's reconstruction program. Yet, when the unemployment compensation bill was before the Senate Finance Committee, Allen appeared at an executive session with what he said was a confidential memorandum from the White House.

Program Broken Down In effect, the memorandum broke down the President's reconstruction program into what was "essential" and what was "desirable." The "essential" part of the request covered a bare minimum, while included under the merely "desirable" were most of the expansion features.

This came at a time when Senator Robert M. A. La Follette, Jr., minority member of the committee, and others were trying to rally support behind the President's measure. The contents of the so-called confidential memorandum quickly became known in Senate and House. The effect was to pull the props out from under whatever support had been built up. The unemployment insurance bill has been bottled up in the House Ways and Means committee for many months.

One explanation at the time was that Allen had not his White House sign crossed. But those who were angered by his maneuver could not accept this explanation. No one, they said, at the time, could make a mistake about a typed memorandum presented by an agent of the White House.

Moreover, they pointed out, the same agent is now being rewarded with appointment to one of the most responsible positions in the government. How, the liberals demand, does this square with President Truman's repeated appeals for legislation such as the expanded unemployment program?

While this may never come up in the debate over Allen's appointment, it is being very much talked about by an important element in the Senate.

ETERNAL WONDER

Of the rise of sun and set,
Never weary mortals get.
And the wonder of the spring
With its first bright blossoming
And its changeless garb of green
With delight by all is seen.
These are cherished more and more,
Though we've known them all before.

Still to rapture we are stirred
By the song of singing bird—
Told by yearly new men
Of the wonder of the spring
And the wonder of the spring
With its first bright blossoming
And its changeless garb of green
With delight by all is seen.
These are cherished more and more,
Though we've known them all before.

But though often it's dull routine,
And though often it's dull routine,
By the humble, by the great,
Still all hearts, hearts elate,
Think it miracle in truth.
When the baby gets a tooth,
All in wonder gaze there,
No one ever tires of that!

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 5:36. Sun rises tomorrow 6:52.

Of course, a lot of people get experience by butting in.

No man ever went on a hunting or fishing trip without making explanations afterwards.

We know a bird who always keeps one hand in his pocket. He has only one glove.

Some women wear the lawn in the winter. They want things done.

ANSWERING CURIOUS CYNIC The reason men who mind their own business are successful is because they have such small competition.

One disadvantage of being a township school teacher is that you have to take the "sass" of the kids who take care of members of the school board. (The local PTA should urge every township newspaper to print that in bold type on the front page.)

No one ever achieved greatness without having someone else run interference for him.

Some men shun vice because they are pious and others do it because they are stingy.

Overheard on the bus: "Most girls believe in love at first sight... but she believes in love at first opportunity."

Meat fumes a lot of things— even soup sometimes.

When we see people with very dirty hands we wonder what their feet look like.

The less you have the less there is to worry about.

Some people mistake notoriety for fame. Fame is a living virtue force that lives long after a person is dead—no man ever attained lasting fame who did not merit it.

Washington, Jefferson, Franklin, Lincoln, Edison, Burbank and Steinmetz attained fame—but most of the others attained only notoriety.

Abraham Lincoln said: "It is the man who does not express opinions whose opinions I want!"

Every great achievement had a small beginning.

The greatest wealth any man possesses is a good name.

EVOLUTION The tomato was called "the love apple," then it became a "vegetable," later a "fruit," and still later, it was classed as a "berry"—and now, in local usage, "tomato" is an attractive girl.

A good husband makes a dull character in the modern novel.

Nations and men who have guns always find an excuse to use them.

The love of homely people is more deeply rooted than the love of handsome people.

Every town has at least a few people who are happy only when they are miserable.

High-powered salesmen sell you what you don't want, and then the collector comes along and makes you pay for it.

The only objection to singing commercials is that you can't forget the darned things.

What does it profit a man to live as he does if he never wakes up with a smile and a nice clean taste in his mouth?

"Sugar costs $2 a pound in Italy." Well, coat it with chocolate and flavor it and you can get that much here.

Will nations settle their differences without using force and ruining themselves? Well, look at us here at home.

Long, "elegant" fingernails mean she is rich enough to have servants or a lot of homework never gets done.

How in thunder can we cooperate with Russians if we can't even cooperate with one another to avoid hurting ourselves?

Eulogies Sometimes Out Of Proportion

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. IN THIS country it is customary for many of our so-called "molders of public opinion" in the press and over the air to go into a sort of frenzy when an especially prominent citizen dies. All his faults and virtues are forgotten and only his failures are remembered. These are extolled to the skies.

THIS is partly due to the almost incurable awe of death ingrained in the average man and woman, partly to natural consideration for the deceased's family and partly to the kindly desire not to recite unpleasant truths when the citizen has ceased to live. It is a commendable practice, provided the eulogies do not become hypocritical and absurd. Particularly is this so in the case of public men whose records and character, for the purposes of history, it is desirable to keep clear and straight.

The eulogies of the late President Roosevelt in the week following his death reached heights of extravagance heretofore unknown.

THIS was natural enough. At the time of his death Mr. Roosevelt was easily the most outstanding man in the world. He had successfully led this nation in the greatest of all wars. He had some extraordinary qualities and a very great and devoted following. But, while the nation united behind him in the war effort, more than 21,000,000 persons voted against him in 1944 and a considerable number of those who voted for him did so because of the war and did not have a high opinion of him personally.

Combined, these constituted close to half the nation and not many of them care even now to have forced upon them the extravagant eulogies which the Roosevelt admirers insist upon having accepted.

It seems no service to his memory to continue this extravagance or to ascribe to the dissenter motives of personal hate and political bitterness—or to refer to them as "shouts."

Stocks of poisoned liquor have been discovered in Japan. Looks like the Nazis were so hard up for the fiery fuel because of the war that they turned to the old bath tub gin variety.

MARRIAGE IN RECTORY "We are to be married in the rectory with our immediate families only to attend the ceremony. I am to dress as a bride and have a large reception. How should my invitations be worded?"

Answer: Under the circumstances you should have reception invitations engraved on note paper, such as that used ordinarily for church invitations, worded as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones request the pleasure of your company at the marriage reception of their daughter Mary Jane.

Mr. John Doe on Saturday the second of February at five o'clock at address.

You will notice "pleasure of your presence" instead of "honor of your presence" in used on reception invitations. The time of the reception should be from a half hour to an hour after the ceremony.

Since our immediate families may be invited verbally to that phase of the wedding.

In the case of a church wedding to which some are invited to the ceremony only and others to both the ceremony and the reception, invitations requesting "the honor of your presence" should be sent to ceremony guests. Those invited to the reception as well should, in addition, receive a reception card.

Present your problems to Miss Marmal who will promptly mail personal replies to readers including self-addressed, stamped envelopes.

Stage Door Canteen Incident Is Debated
Commotion Caused Change In The Program
Mrs. Stassen Is Called Good Campaigner

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—At the closing ceremonies of the Washington Stage Door Canteen there occurred a remarkable demonstration centered on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz. The demonstration was not a part of the planned program for the evening.

In the program, as planned, the general of the army and the admiral of the fleet and their charming wives were to have coffee on the stage of the canteen. At the end of the coffee drinking, the gentlemen were to make short, pleasant speeches and then with their wives join the audience, soldiers and Marines in the audience and there watch the remainder of the evening's entertainment.

However, there began such an uproar of yelling and rushing about immediately after the speech-making, that the canteen authorities thought it inadvisable to permit General and Mrs. Eisenhower and Admiral and Mrs. Nimitz to go down from the stage and sit in the midst of the crowd of excited men.

The uproar may have been enthusiasm and an appreciation of the military chiefs. Or, it may have been an expression of resentment against military practices that began the GI rebellions in the Philippines and spread to almost every big military center abroad.

Taken Out Back Door What the canteen board reported, it did not seem wise to take chances with the uncertain mood of the noisy mob. So the canteen authorities whisked the Army and Navy chiefs and their ladies out a back door of the theater. Stripped them out so fast without warning, that Admiral Nimitz did not have time to finish his coffee and Mrs. Nimitz left her coat behind and had to go back to the coat room to get it.

Somebody pointed for official credit to a while to get them to the theater. The little party of startled military celebrities stood outside the canteen and waited, shivering, for 20 minutes on the coldest night in January rather than risk a reappearance among the agitated servicemen.

There is an incident to be thoughtfully considered. I pass it on without comment.

Now let us get to a pleasant theme—How to be a good wife to a public man. In other words, we'll change the subject to Mrs. Harold Stassen and how she conducted herself when her husband was over-seeing the campaign for Governor.

Mrs. Stassen in her husband's opinion, is the best campaigner in the family. He told me so at the Women's National Press Club luncheon. Five, governor or is it captain would prefer to be called now that you've been in the Naval Reserve? I said: "But how does she show up for campaigning?"

Difficult Situation Recalled "By always being busy doing and saying the right thing," said the gentleman from Minnesota, often referred to as a Republican presidential possibility for 1948.

"I'll explain," said Governor Captain-Presidential Possibility Stassen. He was about to make an excellent speech on the need of a foreign policy for the United States, with advice to the United Nations to get up and walk.

Several awkward political situations developed in Minnesota while I was away," he said. "There was the decision of my associate and friend, Senator Joe Ball, to vote for Mr. Roosevelt and then turn thumbs down on Governor Dewey at the last pre-dental election."

"My wife was embarrassed with questions. Would she make a speech, a statement? Would she just talk? What she indicated was I, then thousands of miles away, would feel about Joe's sudden change of political faith? There was no way to communicate with me. Many people rushed forward to advise me. But she took no one's advice. She worked the thing out for herself."

"She said she didn't know whether or not the fact that Joe Ball had changed his vote meant that I also would vote for Mr. Roosevelt. But she would or glad to say how she was going to vote. She would vote for Tom Dewey."

I wonder how she'd fit in the un-enlarged White House?

What People Say

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE—Senator Millard Tydings: "We have lately reached a point in the development of destructive weapons which will amaze and stun even the most imaginative person."

WASHINGTON—Sumner W. Elzer, undersecretary of state: "The United Nations Organization has got off to a good start. Today they knew that a police force is essential."

WASHINGTON—Senator Arthur Capper objects to the loan to Britain: "If this wild orgy of spending and lending is not cut out soon, I can see coming a strike of the taxpayers and bond buyers that will make the General Motors strike look like a practice softball match."

CHICAGO—Dr. H. Omer Davis, president of Athens college, Athens, Greece: "Democracy does not protect itself; it only works where people have been taught to understand and appreciate the freedoms on which it is based."

Improvement in the economic status of many families is also an important factor. Many women have been able to have a better diet during pregnancy and the diet of the mother affects the child's well-being as well as her own. More women were able to save their babies in hospitals, and hospitals are the safest place for a baby to be born.

Still another important factor, emphasized by Dr. Elliot, has been the extension of maternal and child health services under the Social Security program.

"But great as the reduction has been," observed Dr. Elliot, "the record is still not good enough. For thousands of the 118,000 babies are lost each year, so needless. If the care we know, so well how to give were available to all groups of the population in all parts of the country, then we could cut still further the present tragic loss of life."

Living Memorial

While most American communities are still casting about for a medium through which they can communicate those who fought in the Second World War, the small town of Spring Valley, N. Y., has reached an admirable decision and is now translating it into reality. There was near the center of town a swamp covering nearly thirty acres of land. It was not only useless, but an eyesore as well.

Following an appeal by the mayor the citizens of Spring Valley are contributing money, labor and materials to transform this marshland into a pleasant park and picnic ground. No tax money is being used and the entire project, costing in the neighborhood of $100,000, is being financed by voluntary contributions. Some merchants are contributing equipment, others materials.

Not all communities have either the opportunity or the drive to follow the pattern of Spring Valley exactly. But in transforming waste land into something useful, this community is reversing the usual process of war and thus is creating a most fitting memorial.

Here Today, Gone Tomorrow

Anyone who has had experience with construction work during the past few years, knows that the grim statistics of building costs, shortages and pent-up demand are all too true. The plain fact is that it is nearly impossible to build anything. Those who are fortunate enough to own homes and other property should be thankful indeed—thankful and doubly cautious that the fire does not destroy them.

However, what people estimate of and what they actually do are two very different things. Statistics do fire losses in the United States in November were $37,393,000, an increase of nearly $3,000,000 over October, 1945, and 10 per cent higher than in November, 1944. This loss is the highest of any reported for November in the last 15 years.

The nation is as careless with its property now as in the most abundant days of peace. Far too many homes, factories and similar places of business are literally choked with hazards that could be removed easily and quickly. Thousands of structures will suffer needless hardship and an untold number will die. It will be months and perhaps years before reconstruction can begin. This is the story of the buildings that are here today and will be gone tomorrow. Most of them could be saved, along with the lives that will be lost and can never be replaced.

Fire prevention authorities strive by every means at their command to reach the people with the message of fire prevention. They believe that eventually they will be heard. Certainly, with property values soaring to new highs and the difficulties of replacements reaching the point of impossibility, they should be heard now if ever.

Home As It Is Today

The overseas soldier's insistent theme song, "I want to go home," has a thousand meanings. Home is wife, sweetheart or family. Home is familiar faces, places, customs and language. It is escape from surroundings of defeat and destruction to scenes of happiness and comfort. It is a good job, good pay, appreciation.

In short, home is a place of a thousand wonders which look even more wonderful when viewed from the Philippines or Germany or France. There is no curing the longing for it. But perhaps some of the soldiers would be able to curb their natural impatience a little if they knew that home is not, in every instance, quite the fabulous place that they remember.

Not that the boys wouldn't welcome home with delight, whatever its imperfections. Not that it isn't wonderful, for all its present shortcomings. But still...

Home is a place where thousands of returned soldiers can find no place for themselves, their wives and their children to live. Home is a place of industrial strife. It is a place where the job-picketing veteran may run into confusion and delay over seniority, or find a picket line in front of the plant or discover that the same old work still pays the same wages.

Whatever it is, it's "home." And that's what counts for the G. I. grown weary of being away from it for several years. There's a rejoicing in being able to view the commonplace things of life amid familiar scenes. Americans are like that—in war and in peace.

China has agreed to owe $25,000,000 for U. S. war material left in that country.

It is said that the price of working clothes is going up. Yeah, but who wants to work nowadays anyhow.

Many Americans who are trying to get synthetic rubber tires continue to hold out against synthetic maple syrup.

Nationalists and reds have quit fighting in China. Now everything is comparatively quiet except in the United States.

A Kansas City woman, with a grievance against a cafe, heaved a brick at a window. Yep, she hit the place next door.

The UNO plans to take over 42 square miles of Republicans in Westchester and Connecticut including Clare Luce.

Mrs. Luce had just announced that she would give up her seat in Washington when the camp ground committee announced that it would take her house in Connecticut.

That makes her one of our prettier displaced persons.

This marked the Admiral Dewey party has had since 1944 when all ballots were thrown out by biased judges.

The UNO committee examined several Democratic precincts but was skillfully steered into enemy territory to complete its assignment.

Up in Maine they're afraid to open a newspaper. After what happened in Westchester and Connecticut they're afraid that Maine may be wired sent to Yvestia read. "What's old that would be new to us?" The answer that came back was "Tell Truman to look in the envelope under the left leg of the desk."

Tank Truck Burns On New Wilmington Road Monday Night

Spectacular Blaze Results When Truck Loaded With Kerosene
And Fuel Oil Burns

When the driver, Clarence Allen, of 780 Sharpville avenue, Sharon, lost control of a huge tank truck loaded with 200 gallons of kerosene and fuel oil, on the New Wilmington road, early last evening, the truck was wrecked and caught fire, burning fiercely for several hours. Allen escaped without injury, but the truck and contents was a total loss. It was owned by the Pennine Oil Company of Sharon.

Mr. Allen was unable to state just what happened. He said that something broke about the truck as he was descending a hill, a mile beyond the Field Club, causing him to lose control. The truck went off the road and up a small embankment on the right hand side of the road, and Allen finally got it back onto the highway, when it shot off to the left, and into a field. Apparently the truck's gasoline tank became damaged and was leaking from scraping against the hillside, as it exploded and burst into flames, communicating to the contents of the truck immediately.

Three fire trucks went to the scene, one from New Castle, one from New Wilmington, and one from Neshannock township, but they were forced to stand idly by, without means of quelling the raging blaze. Traffic on the highway was tied up for several hours, the blaze finally burning itself out about 10 o'clock.

Junior Red Cross council, the 30 members of which are elected by the students of the schools they represent, met in the local chapter house Saturday to plan the JRC projects for the rest of the school term.

The State Police Say:

Why not be just as courteous while driving as you are on foot? There would be a lot fewer accidents if you were. Here are several ways to show good driving manners: When some driver insists on having the right-of-way let him have it. When a driver passes on a curve or hill, or misjudges the distance ahead, slow down and let him get back in line. If a driver behind you is anxious to get around you, pull over and let him pass before he takes a chance and involves you in an accident too. Always give the other fellow a break, even if he's wrong.

Rosewood from the Brazilian mimosas, when saved or cut, yields an agreeable smell of roses, hence its name.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

man in a conference, useful in other ways. But to say that Mr. Hopkins's contribution to the war effort was so vast that it makes secure his place in history as a "great American," giving him "lasting fame," is getting more than a little off balance.

THAT really, it is submitted, is somewhat out of proportion. What Mr. Hopkins's contribution was is slightly cloudy. No definite achievement is credited to him. It can be said that he helped do this and that but no claim is made that he was primarily responsible for any concrete thing. With no desire to question either his patriotism or his helpfulness during the war, nevertheless it seems likely that, so far as history is concerned, he will be remembered better for a remark he made back in the second Roosevelt Administration which brutally but truthfully summed up the New Deal policies, principles and practices. It was Mr. Hopkins, it will be recalled, who said "what we are going to do is tax, tax, tax, spend, spend, spend, elect, elect and elect."

NO ONE before or since has put it so clearly, so frankly or so fully. As a description it was accurate as it was complete. It also was a pretty clear indication of Mr. Hopkins's character and quality as a public servant. It was printed in hundreds of papers all over the country, commented upon in countless editorials and articles. After weeks had passed it was apparent it had stirred a public indignation that threatened political damage. Mr. Hopkins, presumably provoked by the President, made a denial. Prior to the denial the friend to whom he had expressed himself was visited by several distinguished gentlemen with close White House connections and scared into a state where he confessed he did not dare confirm the statement. Later Mr. Hopkins went before a Senate committee and repeated his denial under oath.

HARDLY anyone ever had any real doubt that Mr. Hopkins had made the remark. His friends used to say—and still do—Harry had to deny it; there was nothing else he could do. Mr. Hopkins himself was quite cynical about both the remark and the denials. Certainly, it was significant that after his denials the remark continued to be generally attributed to him as though he had made no denial at all. A good many millions will remember that remark long after everything else about Mr. Hopkins has been forgotten. His "lasting fame" will rest more upon it than upon anything else. It seems strange that not one of his many eulogists has seen fit to mention it.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

born in 1943 and almost as many in 1944.

Education of Expectant Parents
Aiding and abetting doctors in reducing mortality among infants and their mothers have been the various agencies of education of the public, especially of prospective mothers, through public health centers, books, pamphlets and newspapers, and radio talks. The children's bureau has done an outstanding service through its bulletins.

Nor has all the education in relation to bringing babies into the world been limited to physical facts or directed to prospective mothers alone.

There has been a growing emphasis on the psychological aspects—the emotional factors in the pregnant mothers' well-being and the part the husband has in furthering or hampering her morale.

Indeed, his attitude may help determine whether or not she seeks early and adequate medical advice and care during her pregnancy. Hardly a physician would deny that emotional well-being favors physical well-being. See what a vital part the husband may have in prompting the pregnant mother's emotional health.

I have prepared a selected list of books and pamphlets for expectant parents which list may be had in a stamped envelope by addressing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

MENTAL HYGIENE

We seem to know a little about physical hygiene but we know less about mental hygiene.

Hygiene has to do with keeping healthy in both body and mind.

Parents have a big job trying to care for the bodies of their children, and perhaps a bigger job in caring for their minds.

Children have a right to a share in the home. They have a share in the privileges and comforts, but also in the duties and responsibilities.

Mother does not expect pay for getting dinner ready. Mary should not expect pay for washing the dishes.

Dad does not get paid for making the garden. Junior should not expect pay for scrubbing the kitchen.

The home belongs to the children, just the same as to the parents. They should be too proud of it to accept pay for doing their share of the work.

They have a right to their share of the income. Sometimes it is pretty hard to figure out the different shares. That is what causes dad's gray hair, if any.

HIT-RUN DRIVER HUNTED

TYRONE, Pa., Feb. 4.—(INS)—Police today were hunting a hit-and-run driver who killed George C. Yarnell, 67, of Port Matilda, last Saturday night.

Police also reported three persons were injured in Blair county auto accidents over the week-end.

OPPORTUNITY FOR VETS

COLORADO SPRINGS.—(INS)—Mining offers many war veterans an opportunity for employment and investment, says Richard Charles King, president of Minerals Reclamation Service, Inc., of Colorado Springs. In a message to servicemen, King declared: "They are our ultimate saviors of defense and the guarantee of our peace. Mining is not crowded and it is the only branch of engineering that uses all other branches in order to get the job done right. Chemical, electrical, mechanical, aircraft, civil, construction, electronics—every kind of engineering you can think of, must play its part in the mining industry."

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—(INS)—Amputation of a rooster's frozen comb often will speed the bird's recovery. Pointing out that a rooster's ability to fertilize eggs is usually greatly decreased by frozen combs, Joe W. Slier, poultry specialist for Purdue University, suggested that a razor blade, sharp scissors or a good pair of tin snips should be used for amputation.

Routes Submitted For Plane Lines In Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The Civil Aeronautics board today studied itinerary routes, submitted by two airline operators seeking licenses to serve Pennsylvania.

A route which will give short-haul service from New York to Pennsylvania and to Washington, D. C., was submitted by Joseph L. Homes-berger, president of Mutual Aviation, Inc., of Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Ray B. Hyman, owner of the Hyman Flying Service, Inc., of Rochester, N. Y., asked approval of a franchise for passenger, freight and air mail service from New York state, with Canadian connections, to Pennsylvania cities and a terminal in Washington.

The Mutual Aviation route would touch Erie, Meadville, Altoona, DuBois, Williamsport, Lock Haven, Harrisburg, York and Lancaster. Hyman's service would cover Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Allentown, Reading, Lancaster and Baltimore.

MALKIN-RUBENSON EVENING WEDDING

Miss Shirley Malkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Malkin of Youngstown, O., became the bride of Sander Harold Rubenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Rubenson, of 508 Laurel boulevard, this city, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, at the Poland Country club, the candlelight ceremony performed before a beautiful embankment of palms, ferns, white pom-poms and snapdragons. Lighted candles added to the impressive scene.

Rabbi Benjamin Holigott of Temple Emmanuel, of Youngstown, O., officiated at the ceremony, using the double ring ceremony.

The bride given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white satin gown, with neckline outlined in marquisette studded with pearls, and skirt made of tulle. Her finger-ring fell from a jeweled marquisette cap, and she carried a white Bible, marked with orchids and streamers.

Mrs. Harold Malkin, as her sister-in-law's matron of honor, was attired in a gown of tangerine black, and carried a matching bouquet of roses, gathered in a tangerine ribbon.

Milton Malkin, brother of the bride served the bridegroom, as best man.

Following the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom, and their parents formed a receiving line and greeted relatives and friends numbering 400 at an open reception in the blue room of the Country club.

A buffet supper was served from long tables centered with a tiered wedding cake, and bouquets of white mums, gladioli and snapdragons, flanked by lighted candles.

Mr. and Mrs. Rubenson departed by motor to Cleveland, where they boarded a plane for a week's stay in New York City. Upon their return they will be "at home" at 508 Laurel boulevard for the present.

Mrs. Rubenson is a graduate of Youngstown high school and attended Western Reserve. Mr. Rubenson has been honorably discharged from army service in December, after three and a half years.

Area Favored For World Capital

To be proposed to the United Nations Organization as its permanent world headquarters, the region (above) that lies across the New York-Connecticut border in Westchester and Fairfield counties between White Plains, N. Y., and Greenwich and Stamford, Conn., was revealed by Dr. Stoyan Gavrilovic, chairman, as the first choice of his selection committee. Ultimate choice rests with the U.N. General Assembly in London. Three alternate areas were to be offered, embracing a primary area of 42 square miles, the Westchester-Fairfield first choice might eventually be enlarged to cover as much as 172 square miles.

REV. "JACKIE" BURRIS and TYPICAL AUDIENCE of 5000

America has been at a low ebb of spirituality and it has looked as though the days of great evangelistic meetings as was seen under the leadership of D. L. Moody, "Billy" Sunday, "Gypsy" Smith, etc., were gone, never to return. But in our nation's greatest need, God has raised up this remarkable young man to awaken America to become conscious of God, the Bible, the Gospel of Jesus Christ, the Church and a world-wide missionary vision.

His sermons are simple but dynamic; he preaches the "Old Fashioned Gospel" but uses "Ultra Modern Methods" in presenting it. He is an ordained Baptist but emphasizes being saved and joining any good church. He has been preaching for 21 years, and in that time has crossed this continent 28 times and has travelled and preached in 38 countries all over the world. His one great passion of life is to reach the unchurched and unevangelized masses of the world with the gospel of salvation. He helps to support over 200 missionaries in 23 countries besides his great evangelistic campaigns in America.

This nation needs such a man as this, and this nation is accepting him with an open heart. He never fights anything or anyone. He preaches CHRIST and depends on the power of PRAYER and he is GETTING RESULTS. The largest auditoriums in the United States are being filled nightly as is shown in the picture above of an audience of 5000 people in Richmond, Va.

To Design Pool For Mercer Park

Thayer company, of this city, has been chosen as designer for a new swimming pool and bath house to be constructed at the new recreational development and Brandy Springs, near Mercer.

The pool, 45 by 105 feet in size, will be built as part of the program to develop the 150-acre piece of land being beautified by the community park association of Mercer.

A dam, skating pond and picnic tables have already been added to the grounds, which will be one of the largest recreational parks in this vicinity.

Henry Seeth, MM 1 c, 600 Line avenue, Ellwood City, has been honorably discharged at the Sampson, New York separation center.

Clarence A. Shaner, SK 3 c, 401 Martin street, New Castle, has concluded his navy career, receiving his discharge at the naval separation center in Charleston, S. C. Seaman Shaner spent 37 months in the service and is authorized to wear the American and European theater ribbons plus the World War II Victory medal.

Captain Warren Caldwell White, 225 Euclid avenue, has received his honorable discharge at Mitchell Field, New York.

Albert E. Wothers, seaman second class, has been honorably discharged at the Bainbridge, Maryland center. His wife resides at 107 Liberty street.

Corporal Merle S. Harris, R. D. 3, Volant, is now serving with the 30th Bombardment Group in Okinawa.

At an impressive ceremony at the separation center in Greensboro, N. C., Cpl. Clifford M. Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander, 509 County Line street, was honorably discharged from the army air forces.

With sufficient points for discharge, Pfc. Howard S. Bair of New Castle, is returning home from Tokyo. He is a member of the Eighth Army's First Cavalry Division.

Sgt. James A. Everhart, son of H. V. Everhart of New Wilmington Junction, has concluded his army career, after forty-two months in the service. Sgt. Everhart spent 24 months overseas with the Signal Corps.

Howard L. Carlisle, 1601 Delaware avenue, now conducts 53 months of service with the army air forces. For forty months he was a pilot on a B-25 bomber, 10 of which was spent in the European theater of operations where he completed 50 combat missions. While on his terminal leave he received word of his promotion to captain.

Mrs. Catherine Scarnati, 409 Shadyview street, has received word that her son, Albert M. Scarnati, serving with headquarters company, Base K, in the Philippine Islands, has been promoted to corporal. Cpl. Scarnati has been overseas for five months and entered the service in January of 1945.

Pvt. Arnold Giancola, of the Second Marine Division is stationed in Kyushu, Japan, where he is occupied with demolition work, according to word received here. His brother, Alfred Giancola 2 m., U. S. Navy, is stationed in Shanghai, China, where he is engaged in transporting mail and passengers. He was formerly stationed at Okinawa and Korea. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Giancola, of Monroe street.

Pfc. Louis M. Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Ross, of 936 Morton street, pleasantly surprised his parents on Saturday, February 2, by calling them from Bremen, Germany. The call was for a short time, and he stated that he was well, and wanted to say "hello" to all his friends. Pfc. Ross is an MP in Germany, and has been overseas for 16 months, and in the service for two years.

John A. Fornatore, m.m. 3 c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Fornatore, 920 Dewey avenue, is home on a 30-day leave from Okinawa, where he has been stationed for 20-months. Following his leave, he will be reassigned in Philadelphia.

Fleet prison, which housed the religious martyrs of the reigns of Mary and Elizabeth, and which was demolished in the middle of the 19th century, gained its name from the Fleet rivulet which flowed into the Thames. The keeper of the prison was called the Warden of the Fleet.

Traffic Accidents In State Kill 1380 During Past Year

HARRISBURG, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The state revenue department reported today that 1380 persons were killed in traffic accidents in Pennsylvania during 1945.

The department said 673 of the fatalities were pedestrians. Seven hundred and 22 persons were killed in motor vehicle mishaps in rural areas while 653 others lost their lives in urban sections.

A total of 1244 persons were killed in highway mishaps during 1944, the department added.

AROUND CITY HALL

Men who served the city either in a temporary or regular capacity are being reinstated to their former status upon their return from the army. Plans to install a water line in Cunningham park (Desion hospital annex) have been cancelled since acquisition by the city. It is not known at this time what may develop there. The property is being guarded.

Most of last week street trucks were busy hauling ashes for streets which will be affected by thaws this spring. Council authorized Finance Director Albert Hoyland to borrow $50,000 from a local bank to pay the current bills until sufficient revenue from 1946 taxes has come in. This is a usual procedure shortly after the beginning of every fiscal year.

Milk, coal and rubbish permits are now available at the city building. John Young, seventh ward policeman, and John Moore, city detective, began their police careers together. W. G. McMullen took his course in fingerprinting at the Butler barracks of the state police. Since he went on the force he has fingerprinted and photographed thousands who fell into police hands.

Mayor John F. Haven has instructed Police Chief Robert D. Hanna to take before aldermen all motorists accused of speeding here. This move was taken as a measure to combat speed demons. During the past week several caps were stolen off parking standards. Mayor John F. Haven and council have not received any information when Miller multiple meters will arrive here.

An observer reports that when the glass in some gratings breaks or falls through some people fit and pound blocks of wood into the holes. A woman's shoe heel is apt to get caught in some of them in which event the property-owner must pay if a court trial results in a verdict of equity being returned.

Only two months remain until the first week of April which before the war was known as "clean up point" week. Yards at this time of the year, do not appear very well to the naked eye but with the arrival of spring winds and some sunshine yards will be cleaned and men who own rubbish trucks will reap financial benefits.

It is anticipated that there will be many new sidewalks laid this year. Harold Woods is the city sidewalk inspector and is an employee of the department of streets. He also inspects signs and is on the alert for any that are apt to fall and injure pedestrians. All signs must be insured and the city thus is paying damages.

So far no assistant engineering crew has been named to assist in postwar work. Half a million dollars are to be expended here. A sewer survey must be made. It may be necessary to lay new sewers. A city building is to be erected and also some smaller structures, hence an early start may prove an early finish.

Will Meet Snyder On Price Relief

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The Tri-State Industrial Association today announced that it will meet with Reconstruction Director John W. Snyder in Washington, Wednesday in an effort to get price relief.

President James S. Egan said the organization will seek a simultaneous price increase with the basic steel industry. He added: "We must have price relief if we want to continue in business. If basic steel gets an increase, it'll be the small manufacturer who will have to pay. Added to that will be the increased wages of the steelworkers."

"It's up to Mr. Snyder if we open or remain closed."

The organization represents more than two-thirds of the steel users in the country.

Seek To Convert Country To Use Of Metric System

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—A couple or three nationally-known newspapers now have uncorked editorial campaigns to convert the country into total adoption of the metric system of weights, measures and what-not.

Stressing that our decimal system already is a second cousin to the metric system—our Uncle Edison's and Einstein's side—they suggest we swap the yard for the meter, the mile for the kilometer and otherwise to do away with all this mathematical in-law confusion.

Gently, they point a chiding finger at such homeless waifs as the kilowatt, the millimeter and other measurement orphans which America accepts but gives no legal status in its linear family. "Still with me, chums."

Overlook Point
They wax eloquent on the subject in a modern and scientific manner, but it seems to this correspondent that they overlook the clinching point in this internationally-minded world, to wit:

Adoption of the metric system by the United States would prevent a repetition of that mass mayhem among motorists which made—and still makes—foreign highways murderous almost everywhere abroad.

'Twas the war and our base-lead that supplied the weapons—our jeeps in Italy, our weapon carriers in France, our six-by-sixes in Belgium, Holland, Germany and Lord-only-knows where else.

You see, Europeans (and most of the world, for that matter) gauge both distance and speed in terms of the kilometer, which is approximately five-eighths of a mile.

Not So Difficult

Thus, obviously it wasn't so difficult for our doughboys to dope out a device for handling the distance problem. You simply read the sign which said "So many kilometers to wherever you were going. Then you divided that number by eight, multiplied the result by five and you had the answer, in miles."

But the foreigners and the speed problem—ahhhhh, that was a dangerously different matter!

We gave them jeeps and trucks—whose speedometers were computed in terms of miles.

And then, came the cooperative crash heard round the world.

When the needle showed "eighty" on the French speedometer, it was only fifty miles an hour—but somehow, French reflexes never seemed to remember that when it said "eighty" on a Yank machine it was almost twice as fast as that. And they kept that foot flattened on the floorboard until the spinning needle gave them that old fast feeling.

So it may well be, that next to sharing atomic energy, America can best contribute to world peace and longevity by adoption of the metric system—at least on our speedometers!

'Clerical Error'
Gives Report Of Three Pardons

HARRISBURG, Feb. 5.—(INS)—A "clerical error" was blamed today by the state pardons board for an erroneous report that Gov. Edward Martin had pardoned three Philadelphia delinquents and granted commutations to three other men.

The cases should have been reported as "held under advisement," the board emphasized.

The erroneous report included commutations for Charles Albert of Allegheny county, Charles Haney of Bucks county and Charles Frye of Delaware county.

more important in the returns from the flocks.

Essentials which are listed as "never to be overlooked" are:

1. Keep fresh water available at all times to the breeding flock.
2. Have salt accessible at all times.
3. Provide plenty of exercise. Occasionally when the snow is deep there is a tendency for ewes to lie around. Under these conditions scattering of roughage on the snow will spur the ewes to take the exercise necessary to their welfare.
4. Include good legume hay in the rations. When good alfalfa, clover or soybean hay is available to ewes in good, thrifty condition, it is unnecessary to feed grain at this time of year, until from four to six weeks before the ewes start to lamb. Grain mixtures of home-grown feeds like oats and corn fed in conjunction with good legume hay roughage has proved satisfactory to most farmers.

Congressman Has Recommendations For Enlistments

Believes Seven Point Program Would Spur Enlistments In
U. S. Regular Army

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Rep. Robert Sikes (D. Fla.) recommended a seven point program today to spur enlistments in the regular army to the extent that continuation of the draft would be unnecessary.

Sikes, house military affairs committee member, outlined his plan as follows:

1. Elimination of the caste system which relegates enlisted personnel to the lower social strata.
2. Homes for family men on or near military posts.
3. More promotions from the ranks to commission status with all officers working their way up.
4. Continuation of family allotments.
5. Revision of pay scales periodically to make service compensation comparable to industrial wages.
6. Uniform and liberal retirement benefits for all services.
7. Improved educational opportunities.

Sikes said that as a second alternative to extending the selective service act past its May 15 expiration date the number of men needed in the armed forces should be reduced by greater use of prisoners of war and civilian employees at home and abroad.

The congressman added that more efficient use could be made of men already serving in the army.

At the same time, Sikes estimated that the odds in congress against renewing the draft are three to one.

Program Designed To Aid Veterans

State Legion Plans To Submit Program To Aid Returned Veterans

HARRISBURG, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The State American Legion was planning today to submit to a committee of Pennsylvanians including Gov. Edward Martin a program designed to aid the commonwealth's veterans.

Department Commander James P. Murray, of Forest City, announced that the committee "has held an exploratory meeting to study the problems affecting Pennsylvania's 1,200,000 war veterans."

"Many constructive ideas developed at the meeting as to how the public relations committee will function and it was the consensus that the American Legion should submit a suggestive plan for study by members of the committee," Murray said.

Says Government

Restrictions Hurt

Housing Shortage

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—(INS)—William S. Miller, president of the Steelwood Corporation, charged that government restrictions are aggravating the housing shortage instead of easing it.

Miller, who has been in the major construction industry 40 years, said the government claims the housing emergency is over and will insure only 65 to 70 per cent of a bank loan on a house.

The construction president pointed out that during the war the government would insure a bank loan up to 90 per cent of the building cost, adding:

"If the government would return to its wartime financial policy more people could buy homes and the country and business would reap almost immediate benefits."

The Boy Scouts will observe their 36th anniversary this year.

History Making Decision Given

Supreme Court Sets Precedent In Decision In Gen. Yamashita's Case

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The Supreme Court ruled Monday in a history-making decision that Japanese General Tomoyuki Yamashita, erstwhile "Tiger of Malaya," must have for atrocities committed by his troops.

Chief Justice Stone delivered the 6-2 decision, from which Justices Rutledge and Murphy dissented. The opinion marked the high tribunal's first ruling in the case of a war criminal and thus established an epochal precedent.

Yamashita was convicted and sentenced by a military tribunal in Manila.

Appeal to Court
His appeal to the Supreme Court was based on the contention that the military commission lacked authority to try him.

The Philippines Supreme Court previously denied the Japanese general's appeal.

The death sentence was pronounced last December but execution was automatically stayed pending action of the high court.

The Supreme Court in denying Yamashita's appeal held that a military commander is responsible for violation of rules of warfare by his troops, even though their acts were not committed at his direction.

The decision bears vitally on the German war criminal trials in Nuremberg, in which Associate Justice Robert H. Jackson is chief United States prosecutor.

In a report to the house, the committee stated: "It is the sense of your committee that the technical results of the atomic tests should be preserved for the benefit of the United States and those governments (Great Britain and Canada) who participated in the development of the bomb."

Technical Data In A-Bomb Test Will Be Restricted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The house naval affairs committee today took steps to insure that important technical data obtained in the forthcoming atomic bomb tests will be restricted to the United States, Great Britain and Canada.

The committee wrote into its approved resolution a proviso banning the release of "technical results" to nations other than those which participated in the bomb's development.

In a report to the house, the committee stated:

"It is the sense of your committee that the technical results of the atomic tests should be preserved for the benefit of the United States and those governments (Great Britain and Canada) who participated in the development of the bomb."

Young Men's Bible Class Reorganized

Discharged From Service They Re-Establish Class At First Congregational S. S.

During the World War, the Young Men's Bible class of the First Congregational Sunday School was almost depleted of its membership, most of them in the armed forces.

With a good number of them returned to civilian life, the class has been reorganized with John P. Jones, the pastor's son, as teacher.

Mr. Jones received his Bible training and kindred religious work at New York University and Bucknell University at Lewisburg. He was recently honorably discharged from the armed service, in which he served as a commissioned officer for four years.

The committee sponsoring the membership drive is David J. Price, Bill Davies, and Laydon Coughlin. The class proposes to become active in social matters, and will study Bible problems and religion in the light of the experience that most of the members have received during the war.

Wampum Man Awaits Bride From England

Sgt. Robert K. Booher Of Wampum Eagerly Anticipates Arrival Of English Bride

Sgt. Robert K. Booher of R. D. No. 1, Wampum has arrived home from the European Theater of Operations, having received his honorable discharge from the Army at Indian Head, Md. but he is still looking forward to England, where he left his English wife and one year old son.

Civilian Booher's wife and small son expect to embark for the United States the latter part of February as soon as space is available, to bring them along with the many other brides who are currently arriving in this country with their children.

During the service 34 months ago, Bob spent seven months receiving basic training in this country then shipped to the ETO with the 76th Military Police Battalion, serving with that group in England. Later he served with Prisoner of War Battalion in France.

The discharged veteran who formerly carried The News, received the Good Conduct medal, the ETO ribbon with two stars and the Victory medal.

A brother of Bob's, Cpl. Darrell Booher, has recently too, received his honorable discharge from the Army.

Darrell served in the CBI theater in the Air Force for 16 of his 32 months in the service and received the CBI ribbon with four battle stars, Good Conduct medal, Victory medal, American theater medal and a special Chinese ribbon presented by Chiang Kai-Shek.

Cpl. Booher is the husband of Mrs. Araminta Booher of Wampum, while both boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Booher, R. D. No. 1, Wampum.

City Hall Site Payment Has Been Authorized

Council met Monday in city hall, and adopted several ordinances, among them a measure which authorized the city to pay to Richard E. Dana, $30,000, for a site at North Jefferson and Grant streets, which will be occupied by a new city building. One thousand dollars of the purchase price was paid as "hand money" when the agreement was reached in city hall recently.

The remainder of the sum will come from the sale of a half million dollar, bond issue.

Another measure authorized the city to terminate, at the government's request, a lease held by the war department on Cunningham park, where Jackson Hospital annex was located. The city acquired the buildings and contents recently at a low price of $4,000.

Pfc. G. W. Stewart Lands In California

A telegram has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Stewart, of 136 Hillcrest avenue, from their son, Pfc. Gerald W. Stewart, advising them of his landing in this country with the famous 96th Infantry division, at Wilmington, Calif. He expects to be discharged shortly from a camp in Indiana.

Pfc. Stewart joined the 96th division at Camp White, Ore., and served with them in the Leyte and Okinawa campaigns, landing with his division on Okinawa last April 1.

Pfc. Stewart was a rifleman and mortar man. He entered the army in April, 1943, and served hitched at Camp Robinson, Ark., Bradley Tech, Peoria, Ill., for specialized training, at San Luis Obispo, for amphibious training and in Hawaii for advanced jungle training, just prior to going to the Island of Leyte.

A brother Herbert Stewart, New Castle High football star, has joined the U. S. Marine Corps and leaves shortly for Parris Island to undergo training.

A message to the people of Pennsylvania

Pennsylvania is the greatest State in the Union. It possesses this rank because of its wealth of natural resources and the greatness of its people.

It has abundant fuel and power, great transportation systems, a central location in the richest markets of the nation.

It is rich in history, rich in its traditions, rich in its spiritual resources, rich in those attributes that make life worth living.

It knows what you mean when you talk of the romance of industry. It is proud of its skilled labor, proud of the fusion of blood that has produced one of the strongest races on earth.

Businesses and individuals find tax advantages in Pennsylvania. This is not a play on words. It is a fact. As this message is written, word has come to me of a sizeable industry that has chosen Pennsylvania because of Pennsylvania's tax advantages.

A short, intensive campaign just before the War brought in 350 new industries, helped others to expand, paved the way to a third of a billion dollars of new capital investments here. That shows what organized effort will do. That sort of effort continues. But we want to do, we can do, far more.

Here is what you can do: This is the sort of campaign in which everyone—yes, every one—can do something. Form a group in your own community, or join one already formed to boost your own neighborhood and to boost Pennsylvania. Invite desirable people to come here to live. Do everything you can, individually and in groups, to attract new industries to your locality. Help the industries which are already here. All this will pay you rich dividends, for anything that helps Pennsylvania, helps you!

Parents Seek Missing Sailor

New York Coastguardsman Missing Since October; Believed Annesia Victim

Citizens of New Castle today were asked to be on the lookout for Philip C. Ford, yeoman 2-C, of the United States Coast Guard, who has been missing from his home in New York City since October, 1945.

The request was made by R. L. Meermans, general secretary of the YMCA here, who described Ford, a member of the YMCA in New York, as being five feet eight inches tall, weighing 130 pounds, blue eyes, black curly hair, cleft chin and having even white teeth. While he wore his blue uniform, white hat and pea coat when he disappeared, it is possible that he is now wearing civilian clothes. It is feared that Ford, within one-half point of being discharged, is suffering from amnesia.

Ford's step-father has posted a reward of $5000 for information leading to the finding of the missing youth. Anyone having information concerning Ford are asked to notify Mr. Meermans at the YMCA or contact any police officer.

Urges Overhauling Of Divorce Laws

Number Of Divorces Since War Appalling, Pittsburgh Churchmen Say

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—(INS)—A closer investigation of all divorce cases was advocated today by Dr. Edgar C. Lucas, pastor of the Cheswick Presbyterian church.

"The war has given the women too many liberties," the minister said. "Nowadays, it seems, that if something trivial happens in marital relations, the women immediately decide to quit and go shift for themselves."

A new monthly record of 982 divorces were filed in the Allegheny county probate office during January.

Prothonotary David B. Roberts declared that there should be a thorough overhauling of the present divorce laws. "That's the only remedy," he added.

Col. John Galloway of Wichita, Kas., an Army public relations officer, telephoned a railroad office to find out about a train his wife, Elizabeth, was arriving on. "Is that train normally on time?" asked John. "Normally, yes," replied the information clerk, "but it hasn't been for four years."

Controversial Feeling In U. S. Hurt Hyde Park

LONDON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—

Controversial feelings with the U. S.

association with Hyde Park were disclosed today to have influenced site committee recommendations for a permanent UNO headquarters.

Said the committee report:

"This association is greatly welcomed in certain American quarters and arises just as strong opposition in others.

"The former favor Hyde Park as the site, while the latter object to the linking of the headquarters with the name of the late president or indeed with any other individual."

The committee recommended the

North Greenwich-Stamford area as its first choice.

Hostility In Speech

The section of the report dealing with the Boston area said Soviet member G. E. Sackin had asked that attention be called to a meeting at which Judge John E. Swift of the Massachusetts supreme court made a speech showing hostility to the United Nations.

The report added:

"The remaining members of the group were not prepared to draw from this single incident—which in their opinion could have occurred anywhere in the areas under consideration—the inference that the state of Massachusetts did not comply with qualification one mentioned above."

Qualification No. 1 specifies

among other things that the area chosen should have "no considerable isolationist movement."

Pointing out that in the section

finally selected "the local population would have to be removed from such areas and buildings as are immediately needed by the United Nations," the report added:

"The occupants of other premises within the zone could continue to reside there as tenants of the United Nations until such time as it became necessary to take over their premises, it being understood that the whole area will be acquired by the United Nations at the outset."

Three Firemen Injured Battling

Blaze North Of State Capitol

Monday Night

HARRISBURG, Feb. 5.—(INS)—

Approximately 50 persons were homeless today as the result of a fire which destroyed a block-long row of frame houses north of the state capital.

Three firemen were injured, one seriously, fighting the blaze which was believed to have been started by a defective light switch.

A broken water main hampered firemen at the height of the blaze and caused a minor flood in one street. Sub-freezing weather caused uncertain footing for firemen as water from the broken main and hoses froze on streets and walls.

Virtually all of the capital city's fire fighting equipment was pressed into service. Firemen battled the blaze for more than two hours.

One woman had to be restrained from rushing into her home to save her life's savings. She later found the money which was wet but un-burned.

Gardening Fans Will Stick To Hoe And Spade

So the fellow next door is going to be a slacker this year, and not raise a victory garden, or whatever the 1946 word for it is. Well, get your garden tools out anyway, for plenty of other people on your street will be setting in tomato plants just as they did last year.

Instead of going out of fashion, the gardening craze which swept over the nation during the war is still somewhat stronger than it ever was before, although it has naturally slackened considerably since its wartime peak.

According to County Farm Agent Louis C. Dayton, many people who always before thought that line was just a kind of ice cream have learned much about soil and drainage and fertilizers and seed, and the more they learned, the more they enjoyed it.

Not Too Necessary
"It's not that the small gardens are really necessary now," explains Mr. Dayton, "but people have come to enjoy the taste of vegetables freshly pulled from the garden, and they find the whole process of gardening is recreation instead of work."

Of course, many former victory gardeners will be switching from potatoes and beets to peonies and zinnias now, with flowers taking over the vegetable patch. No organized effort has been made around the city—at least not so far—to get groups of gardeners to share a field as many of them did last year. Instead of large gardens outside of the city, much of the work this year will be done in little beds and patches around the yard. There are always the ambitious souls, however, who will still go after a garden that has to be plowed instead of spaded. These people, too, will probably be more numerous than they were before the war. Maybe the man next door to you isn't starting a garden, but two-to-one the fellow across the street is planning to.

Carmelta DeLuca Received In Order

Local Girl Receives Religious Habit And Name At New Haven, Conn., Last Week

Miss Carmelta DeLuca, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeLuca of 629 Forrest street, has been received into the religious order of the Missionaries of the Sacred Heart in New Haven, Conn., this past week, receiving her religious habit, and the religious name of Sister Mary Lucetia.

A group of 10 localities including her family attended the impressive ceremonies, which were conducted by Bishop O'Brien.

Sister Mary Lucetia, a member of St. Vitus church, departed for the convent last June 28, 1945, and following seven months received her habit and name. She was one in a group of five women to be received.

Last Sunday, a mass of thanksgiving was offered in St. Vitus church by Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita for the young sister, and the altar was beautifully decorated with flowers sent by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cialella.

Larger Packages Go To Servicemen

Post Office Department Permit. Sending Of Larger Packages To Men In Army And Navy

Larger packages can now be sent to men in the Army and Navy overseas, it is announced by Postmaster William R. Hanna.

It is now permissible to send packages weighing eleven pounds, which do not exceed 42 inches in length and 72 inches in width and girth combined. Requests are still needed for this size of parcel.

Parcels which do not weigh more than eight ounces, sent at first class rates can be mailed without a request from the serviceman. It is stated. These cannot contain foodstuffs or candy, however.

ONE-WAY STRETCH TO LAST ANOTHER YEAR

AMES, Iowa.—(INS)—Foundation garments and suspenders must be pampered for another year.

So says Elizabeth Peterson, clothing specialist at Iowa State College, who points out a year likely will pass before natural rubber garments can be expected in quantity on the market. Until then, there probably will be a shortage of synthetic rubber "stretchers."

Take heed, ladies and gentlemen.

Sgt. L. Castrucci Granted Discharge

Ward Resident Ends Services With Eighth Army Air Force In England

Staff Sergeant Louis Castrucci, of the Eighth Army Air Force attached to the ground crew, has received his honorable discharge from service at Indiantown Gap, after spending over two and a half years in England.

Staff Sgt. Castrucci, son of John Castrucci, of 8 North Cedar street, has been in service for three and a half years.

While overseas he received the good conduct medal, and the American Theatre Ribbon. He was previously employed at the B. & O. railroad, prior to his induction.

A brother, Attilio Castrucci, MM 2-c, U. S. Navy, was killed in action during the battle of the Solomon Islands, November 30, 1942. Another brother, Daniel Castrucci, is employed in a navy yard at Pearl Harbor.

Sodality Members Get Instructions

Members of the Immaculate Conception Sodality had their regular meeting on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the auditorium of St. Lucy's church.

The meeting was opened with prayers led by Rose Leone and singing of hymns directed by Sister Rose.

Prefect Antoinette Melozzi spoke on the necessity of the sodalists knowing the rules and regulations of the organization. Each member was presented with a rule book.

Eucharist Chairman Philomena DiPiero discussed the forty hours devotion, and the duty of every sodalist to go to church during their individual hour. The Catholic Truth chairman, Catherine Desjardine, gave a talk on prayers, and the various methods of praying. Social life chairman Flossie Masone cancelled the Valentine party on account of the death of a member. Publicity chairman Connie Zumpella spoke on "Catholic Press Month" and the need of each member reading Catholic literature. Sister Rose addressed the group on the proper way of saying the rosary. Sodalist members then voted choosing the committee on which they desired to serve.

The meeting was brought to a close with prayers by Rose Leone. Next meeting of the group will be Sunday, March 3.

Girl Reserves Have Party At Y.W.C.A.

At the Y. W. C. A., members of the Girl Reserves of the ward had a mixed party over the weekend beginning at 7 and terminating at 10 o'clock in the evening.

Principal Fred McClure and wife, Miss Helen McQueen, Miss Hazel Toepfer, teachers, and Miss Marion Ochampaugh of the Y. W. C. A. were present.

Various games and a dancing program were the evening's diversion. In charge of the program committee, Patsy Fiacco chairman, Mary Lou Thompson, Concetta Russo, and Mary Jane Finnin.

A delicious lunch was served by the social committee, Gloria Spencer, Judith Metz, and Dolores Domenico.

Next meeting of the group will be Wednesday afternoon in Mahoning School.

MEETING PLACE CHANGED
Instead of meeting in the home of Mrs. M. R. Olmstead, the Lookout Bible class of the Mahoning Methodist church, will be entertained by Mrs. O. C. Mauck, of 409 Hillcrest avenue, this evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. C. D. Gorley will be associate hostess.

EIGHT O'CLOCKS TO MEET
Mrs. T. J. LaRock of 511 West Madison avenue will be hostess on Thursday evening to members of the Eight O'clock club.

FORMER PASTOR VISITS HERE
Rev. and Mrs. S. J. Purvis of the Memorial Presbyterian church, Youngstown, visited Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Patterson, 407 North Cedar street. Rev. Purvis is a former pastor of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church.

PASTOR IMPROVING
Rev. Robert L. McKibben, pastor of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, who has been confined to his home with streptococcal throat, is somewhat improved.

BEREANS MEET TONIGHT
Members of the Berean Bible class of the Madison Avenue Christian church will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Jones, 701 Newell avenue.

MCCOY CLASS TO MEET
It is announced that the McCoy Bible class of the Mahoning Methodist church will meet on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Mrs. William A. Moss, 702 West Clayton street. Mrs. R. C. Cather will be co-hostess.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS
Henry B. Sandifer of 113 East Clayton street, who has been confined to his home with illness, is somewhat improved.

Miss Thelma Bumbaugh of Hiram college, Ohio, has returned after spending the week-end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bumbaugh of Sixth street.

Mrs. Helen Humphrey of North Cedar street is getting along fine. She has been returned to her home from the Jameson Memorial hospital, where she underwent an operation.

Mrs. Jennie DeNuccio of Bolt street has been returned to her home from the Jameson Memorial hospital and is recovering nicely. Mrs. DeNuccio received treatment at the hospital.

Wagner To Seek Information On Huston's Office

Auditor General Seeks Information On Whereabouts Of Inheritance Tax Fees

HARRISBURG, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Auditor General G. Harold Wagner planned today to "exhaust every means" to obtain information from Allegheny County Register of Wills John M. Huston as to the whereabouts of $23,373.67 in excess inheritance tax fees.

Dputy Register of Wills John H. Lauer, Huston's counsel, contended during a hearing yesterday at Harrisburg, that under the law it was not necessary that records be produced.

Wagner stated: "I can't see why this legal jockeying is going on to interfere with me in the legal performance of my duties. I can tell you we are going to use every means to protect the commonwealth. We're not going to give up."

Lauer replied: "We do not refuse to produce any records, we simply say that under the law we are not required to do so. Mr. Huston has made the statement previously that the money is intact."

Huston's Claims
A brief filed on Huston's behalf contended that Wagner's summons not only was unconstitutional but that he acted unconstitutionally and lacked power to order the sheriff to procure certain documents of the register of wills.

Huston's brief also brought in the 1945 Pittsburgh mayoralty campaign. It stated:

"You (Wagner) have supposedly stood up, and then in the heat of a political campaign you caused to have launched a series of investigations and audit of my public accounts (which you and other state authorities have audited and found to be correct and true in all respects time and time again), and

"A series of hodge-podge and heterogeneous 'writs' and 'summons' in extra curricular and non-judicial proceedings, so confused and confusing, that you, your agents and employees have become legally far afield and have become lost in a legal atmosphere of nebulous nebulosity."

Wagner asserted that Huston was the only register of wills in the commonwealth who had not submitted an account.

New York Strikers Express Defiance
Expected Government Seizure Of Strikebound Tugs, Barges Occasions Strikers' Resistance

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Expected government seizure of 400 strikebound tugs and barges in New York harbor was met today with open defiance from rank and file crewmen.

Some 2,500 members of the striking Local 333, United Marine Division of the International Longshoremen's Association at a strike strategy meeting last night responded to warnings of federal seizure with cries of "Let Truman steer the tugs!"

They shouted down U. S. Conciliator William C. Hiller's warning of federal action, ignored a plea by I.L.A. President Joseph P. Ryan to leave the warning, and named a 10-man committee to continue negotiations without committing the local before reporting back to the rank and file.

Meanwhile city officials predicted a major fuel shortage in the city by the end of the week, since there is only four days' fuel oil on hand, with coal supplies little larger. Consolidated Edison, major supplier of electric light and power, had only four days' coal supply. The mayor's office was busy planning to move more food by trucks—tugs and barges normally account for one-third of the city's food supply.

SEEK CHARTER
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—(INS)—A new veteran's organization—United World War Veterans—today sought a charter on the grounds that it wanted to keep its members informed on the activities of congressional and state leaders.

Officials of the group claimed a membership of 200 veterans of both world wars. The organization planned to issue non-partisan reports based on the "Congressional Record" and the state legislative bulletins.

DON'T SHOOT!

Lay that pistol down! It's no burglar! It's only Pop trying to get a lamp bulb large enough to read by. (You stuck a 40-watt bulb in his bedlamp and took his for the bathroom, remember?) Shame on you for making a bulb-snatcher of your husband.

Why not make it up to him? Tell him you're sorry, and then run down to the store first thing in the morning and buy a batch of right-sized lamp bulbs. Then you can always keep every socket filled with right-sized bulbs and neither one of you will have to bulbsnatch again.

Medical Society To Hear Dr. Eisman

Faculty Member Of University Of Pittsburgh Medical School Here Thursday

Dr. Josiah Eisman, a member of the faculty at the University of Pittsburgh Medical school, and of the Magee Maternity hospital staff, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Lawrence County Medical Society Thursday evening, February 7, at 9 o'clock. The meeting will be in the coral room of the Castleton.

Dr. Eisman is an obstetrician, and will speak on the subject, "The Management of Pregnancy." The new program committee will have charge of this first program meeting of the year.

Following the meeting-program, refreshments will be served.

OWNER ASTOUNDED, HOW ABOUT THE BEN
WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass.—(INS)—He blinked his eyes in disbelief—did Dominick Garreffa—when he found what looked like an ostrich egg in his hen-coop.

It turned out to be a chicken egg weighing more than half a pound and measuring 3 1/2 inches in length and 2 1/4 inches in diameter. A normal egg weighs about two ounces.

SHORTAGE HALTS PLANT
LOCK HAVEN, Pa., Feb. 5.—(INS)—Operations at the Piper Aircraft Corp., at Lock Haven today were scheduled to be suspended Friday due to the shortage of material resulting from the steel strike. Approximately 1900 employees would be affected, according to Vice President Ted Weld.

End Of War Finds Reading Interests Shift To Peace

Reading tastes are often as changeable as fashions, commented Miss Alice Sterling, head librarian of the New Castle Free Public Library.

Comparing the book demands at the present with the demands during the war, the librarian points out that interests change with the seasons, with current events, with a movie version of a novel, or with the popularization of a hero. People also read according to need, and needs change.

Although adult interest in war books has waned in the past six months, the adolescents are still going for them, probably more than before. "Naturally," enough, the "building of the peace" sort of book is finding wider circulation now than before, and the place-study books on Russia and South America are really going places.

Theory Of Leisure Class
Economics and sociology are also being studied, not by mobs of readers but certainly by more than before.

One person even came into the library the other day just especially to get "Veblen's" "Theory of the Leisure Class," Miss Sterling mentions. "And now that the war is over, the travel books are on their own again. New Orleans, especially, is a topic of interest this year, with the first Mardi Gras in four years being planned for March 5."

Alert Commander Prevents Fire On Liner Queen Mary

ABOARD THE QUEEN MARY
AT SEA, Feb. 5.—(INS)—A fire at sea, most feared of the many hazards faced by seamen, was prevented early today aboard the liner Queen Mary bearing 1,700 G. I. brides and 640 children to the United States.

Alertness of U. S. Naval Commander John P. Horgan of New York eliminated the threat to the giant vessel, "taskforce diaper". Horgan smelled smoke and finally detected an overheated sterilizer outside a main deck cabin where the brides, despite constant cautioning, had forgotten to switch it off when finished using the apparatus.

Horgan, who flew from London to accompany the Queen Mary and handle transportation of some 480 sailor brides among the travelers, summoned a fire control party. The firemen quickly repaired the smoking sterilized harmless.

Finishes Course In British Isles

Technical Sergeant Harold Adams of Hillcrest avenue, a member of the 343rd Engineers in Germany, has just completed a course in the purification of water in the British Isles.

While studying in England, Sgt. Adams visited many places of interest including the Dover cliffs, 10 Downing street, and Buckingham palace. Part of his course took him to Scotland and while there he visited Stirling and Edinburgh castles and the homes of Robert Burns and Sir Walter Scott.

Sgt. Adams is now back in Germany where he has charge of all water points and purification with his unit.

More Nominees Of President To Face Going-Over

Vardaman And Allen To Be Investigated By Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Two more of President Truman's nominees today joined Edwin W. Pauley in facing a rigorous going-over by Senate committees.

They are James K. Vardaman, Jr., the president's naval aide, whom he nominated for a 14-year term on the Federal Reserve Board of Governors, and White House Adviser George E. Allen, picked for a Reconstruction Finance Corp. directorship.

As the two were called before the Senate Banking Committee today, Sen. Capehart (R) Ind., predicted a month-long hearing that he said would center mostly on Vardaman. Capehart said that because the term is a long one in an important job the Republicans want "an exhaustive study" of qualification of the former St. Louis banker and shoe manufacturer, Capehart said.

"We want to see whether he has the business experience and background for the job, we doubt if he has that."

Predicting that Vardaman will face committee fire as intensive as that turned on Pauley, President Truman's nominee for naval under secretary by the Naval Affairs Committee, Capehart said there would be a lesser attack on Allen—"as a lobbyist and a playboy."

Shaughnessy Quits As Coach At Pitt, For Maryland Post

In Face Of Dissension "T" Master Leaves Pitt To Return To Maryland U.

Shaughnessy In Leaving Pitt Charges Assistants With Incompetency-Tough Schedules

By NORMAN AGATHON
(International News Service Writer)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—Speculation ran high at the University of Pittsburgh today on who will succeed Clark Shaughnessy as head football coach.

The veteran coach resigned yesterday and declared that he had failed to bring the University of Pittsburgh more winning games because the athletic committee had not set up a definite program for him to follow.

Shaughnessy will become head coach at the University of Maryland after March, succeeding Pat Shaughnessy, who resigned recently. Shaughnessy left Maryland in 1942 to become head coach at Pitt.

He plans a vacation before returning to lay the groundwork for spring practice and selecting his coaching staff at Maryland.

Meanwhile, three candidates were mentioned prominently for the Pitt vacancy. They are Dr. Eddie Baker, former Pitt star and more recently coach at Carnegie Tech; Andy Gustafson, assistant coach at West Point Military Academy and former Pittsburgh athlete; and Spike Harding, late of the Navy.

Shaughnessy, who rejuvenated and polished the modern "T" formation, submitted his resignation to Chancellor Rufus H. Fitzgerald after the faculty committee recommended that "he sever his connection with professional football."

Shaughnessy charged that his assistants were "incompetent and lacking in ability."

Charles Hartwig, Stan Olean and Robert Hall, assistant coaches, resigned last week with a statement that "we can't get along with Shaughnessy."

Shaughnessy declared: "I'm confused with all the ramifications of my duties. It is to go the best job I can with the material facilities and assistants furnished, or is it to win football games?"

Riding By Alumni
Shaughnessy asserted the alumni had been "riding" him for not winning.

Junior Rifle Club Plans Meet

Thursday evening, Feb. 7, at 6 p. m. instead of 7 p. m., there will be a special meeting of the New Castle Junior Rifle club.

All members are requested to attend the meeting in their old clothes. The session has been called by the new president, Hubert Fletcher. It is hoped that all the members will attend for a practice match will be held the same night.

In the first half of the National Junior Rifle club postal matches, New Castle stands in 69th place.

Shapghnessy continued:

"If the University of Pittsburgh wants to win football games it is up to those who have charge of the policies to set up a program and then carry it out."

He added:

"Schedule Too Tough
"Pitt should not have scheduled as many tough games as it did during the past season. We lacked manpower, training hours and management, assistant coaching and a proper schedule."

"When I came to Pittsburgh in 1942 I took it for granted that the institution was conducting its intercollegiate program according to the western conference code, which is operated the same as a class in physics or chemistry. No one has ever advised me of the existence of Pitt's special code."

CHURCH LEAGUE GAMES MONDAY

Sacred Hearts, Epworth, First U. P. Win Games In Loop At 'Y' Monday

Sacred Hearts, first half champs in the New Castle Church League, looked like champions again in the second half last night as they downed the St. Paul's Lutherans in the third game 40 to 18 with Joe Cooper and Andy Lauro in starring roles.

Johnny Kutesch was the star for the St. Paul's Lutherans with six points.

The Epworth team strengthened by the addition of Fred Winter, who had 12 points, defeated the St. George Greeks 35 to 23, while in the other game on the card, the First U. P. whipped Third U. P. 40 to 20, with Gibson, Rea, and Lewis in the spotlight.

The schedule for Wednesday in the league was announced by Director Jimmy Darr as follows:

St. Paul's Lutherans vs. Second U. P.

First Presbyterians vs. St. George Greeks

First Baptists vs. First U. P.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

FRANK SEXTON, world's heavyweight champion, whom recollection says once grappled here, will defend what he terms the world's heavy-weight title against Whipper Billy Watson, British empire champion in Cleveland, Thursday night, Pittsburgh may soon "go" for the matmen, according to reports. "Morrie" Suber, once a good local middleweight wrestler, has retired. . . . Years ago amateur mat matches were held under A. A. U. and Y. auspices in the local Y. In his early day, Bob Meermans, head of the local institution knew his holds. Writing of wrestling the first appearance of "The Angel" here was a money-maker but the receipts of his second appearance caused no uplifting of eyebrows.

Plans are complete for the Old Time Sportsmen's banquet, Thursday evening, at Sylvan Heights golf course clubhouse. Sportsmen from as far distant as Venango County will be present. Game and fish protectors of the state will be among those present. . . . Good trout fishing rods are difficult to obtain because of the lack of manufacture during the war. However, salesmen who have visited local stores have promised some good rods will be available this year. . . . This good to see Ralph Fundoots will be back in baseball this summer. "Blackie", as he is more familiarly known is West Pittsburgh's Mr. Baseball. . . . Fans already are planning to attend the Robinson-Angott, Pittsburgh bout, March 4.

Marcel Hansenne, French champion miler, now in the U. S. never seen an indoor track until he landed in America. . . . Members of Beloit College basketball team have widely separated family backgrounds. One is the son of a minister and others are sons of a bartender, printer, farmer and undertaker. . . . Jim Jeffries, former world heavyweight boxing champion's father was a minister. . . . Andy and Bud Ivy, prominent on Northwestern's mat team are the sons of Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, famed physiologist of the U. S. medical school. Another brother, Bill, was a heavyweight on the 13 squad. . . . Nick Sebek, Tonawanda, N. Y., Indian's second string fullback, has withdrawn from school, awaiting his draft summons.

Jefferson A. C. ringsters are casting optics at amateur bouts in nearby cities for talent to entertain the sock injury in The Arena, February 18. . . . Cast against a more experienced opponent and consequently a loser, Bud Pander, printer's devil, intends to start anew, implying by that it takes more than one defeat to stop an oncoming printer. . . . If you can remember when women wore hopped skirts, you have gray hair. . . . Strong wind of last Saturday helped the fox and mitigated against the dog and man. . . . When Alderman J. C. Kennedy hatched his first couple he was more nervous than the groom and bride. . . . Remember when you got suspenders free with every suit purchased?

Bowlers record Earl McCormick as a good money bowler, or one who can be depended upon to come through when the bowling is tough. Among those who will appreciate a change from the South Pacific to New Castle will be Larry Gramling of Castle Hills. . . . Tuts McDermott, well known dog fancier and hunter, is visiting in Florida. . . . Frank Summers may return to Florida soon. . . . Adolf Lang is fishing at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. . . . Johnny James took some bass from Blue Nose, Neshaunook creek last summer. . . . ## Party Slates Being Framed

Expect Selections To Be Revealed Before Petitions Circulate February 9

GUFFEY MAY RUN FOR THIRD TIME

HARRISBURG, Feb. 5.—(INS)—Republican and Democratic leaders appeared today to be ready to reveal party slatemaking in time to sidestep any indecision among organization workers when nominating petitions are circulated February 9.

On the Democratic side of the fence, leaders have scheduled a meeting at Harrisburg Thursday to thrash out party strategy and endorsements.

Collapse of the gubernatorial boom for Gen. Carl Spaatz of Boyertown has forced Democratic schemers to scout around for another man with vote-getting possibilities.

Mentioned for the high post were Col. Philip Matthews of Carlisle, former state WPA administrator, and Federal Judge Guy Bard of Philadelphia.

In addition to election of a governor and running mate, the electorate will choose a secretary of internal affairs, 33 congressmen, 208 state representatives, 25 state senators and numerous officials in local contests.

State committeemen will be selected during primary balloting.

Would Make It Easier
Governor Martin's acceptance of the party's endorsement for senator would make it easier for leaders to slate a candidate for governor.

Their task was eased over the week-end when State Supreme Court Justice George W. Moxey of Scranton reportedly notified supporters that he was not a candidate for governor.

A boom for Senate Majority Leader Weldon B. Heyburn of Concordville was started over the week-end in an effort to win endorsement for the Delaware county Republican as the party's gubernatorial candidate.

Heyburn admitted when notified of the efforts of prominent Columbia county farmers that he was "interested and in a receptive mood."

Others mentioned to succeed Governor Martin were Lt. Gov. John C. Bell, Jr. of Wynnewood; Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer of Shemokin; Col. Daniel B. Strickler of Lancaster and Lt. Col. Jay Cooke of Philadelphia.

Cook has insisted he did not seek the gubernatorial post, but reports persisted at Harrisburg that he had not pulled out of the race.

So far, only one person has been active in seeking the GOP nomination for lieutenant governor, Comm. James E. Van Zandt of Altoona has given approval to the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Pennsylvania to launch a campaign to win him the nomination.

State Allocates $17,000,000 For Municipal Roads

New Year Marks New Era Of Highway Financing From 1945 Municipalities

HARRISBURG, Feb. 5.—Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer announced today that January 1, 1946, marked the beginning of a new era of highway financing from 1945 municipalities in the Commonwealth.

On that date the cities, boroughs, towns and first-class townships of the state began sharing, for the first time, in a direct appropriation of $8,500,000 from the motor license fund, for street and road maintenance and improvement purposes, for the ensuing years 1946 and 1947.

These funds are allocated on a mileage basis, the act providing for the mileage to be determined by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways from reports furnished by the municipalities.

Perplexing Angle
"Considering the years of effort on the part of various organizations to obtain this appropriation, a perplexing angle has appeared in the apparent indifference on the part of some boroughs to file reports, which upon doing so will enable them to qualify to receive their proportionate share of these funds," Shroyer said.

"Despite the department's efforts to impress the municipalities with the importance of filing their reports, 25 boroughs have not filed a mileage report, and the exact proportionate share due each municipality cannot be determined until each one has done so."

Last Round-Up
"In a final effort to obtain the reports, I have instructed the department's field forces to make a 'last round-up,' so that all municipalities will receive their first quarterly payment which is due March 1."

Mileage reports already received and tabulated indicate municipalities will receive in excess of $325 per mile per year. This is almost double the cost per mile of maintaining most of the roads on the state system and their financial gain should result in an excellent record of highway maintenance and construction in the municipalities, Shroyer said.

This act also provides for an appropriation of $8,500,000 to the second-class townships which will net them $93.54 per mile per year, an increase of $16.34 per mile over the amount received during the past biennium.

Mass Picketing
Ban Is Appealed

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—(INS)—The CIO-Steelworkers on Monday afternoon appealed Judge Sara M. Soffel's picketing injunction to the State Supreme Court.

Judge Soffel on Saturday handed down a decision stopping mass picketing at the Homestead works of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation. She barred shoulder-to-shoulder picketing, limiting the number of pickets at each gate to 10.

The CIO in its appeal today contended that Judge Soffel's decision was an "injustice" to the union.

The appeal was filed by Attorney Sylvan Lisbon. He said he could not comment in advance of hearing on the appeal.

Judge Soffel's order continues in force while the appeal is pending.

Expert Predicts Gardening Increase

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Feb. 5.—A Pennsylvania State college gardening expert predicts home vegetable gardens will be cultivated in large numbers again this year.

Dr. Warren B. Mack, who served as executive secretary of the State Council of Defence Victory Garden committee, believes nearly one million Pennsylvania families will grow their own vegetables in 1946. Last year, the figure was 1,400,000.

Recalling that it was at least ten years after World War I before the gardening habit subsided, Dr. Mack asserts that high prices encourage home gardening while high employment discourages it. For evidence, he points to the early '30s when the economic depression brought a sharp rise in the number of home gardeners.

People who had gardens on their home plots are almost certain to plant them again, Dr. Mack believes, while at least 90 per cent of the farmers will have gardens, too. He also looks for community and industry-sponsored plots to continue this year.

"And don't forget," he adds, "that those people who derived pleasure out of the work, and discovered corn or peas fresh from the garden had a taste which vegetables purchased on the market couldn't possibly equal, won't quit in a hurry."

Budapest is situated on the Danube river.
